

AUSTRIAN PREMIER SHOT

NEWSPAPER PUBLISHER IS HELD RESPONSIBLE

[BULLETIN]

London, Oct. 21.—The premier of Austria has been shot.

Reuter's Amsterdam correspondent says the Premier, Count Karl Stuergh, was shot today by the publisher of a Vienna newspaper named Abler, according to a telegram received at Amsterdam from Berlin.

Count Karl Stuergh is the Austrian Premier. His ministry was formed November 3, 1911, and was reorganized November 30, 1915.

ASK HUGE
WAR LOAN

Amsterdam, Oct. 21.—(Via London)—Advice received here from Berlin to the effect that a bill will be presented in the Reichstag Saturday asking for a new war credit of twelve billion marks.

Berlin, Oct. 21.—(Via London)—A conference in which all the leading ministers of the German federal states will participate will be held in Berlin today. Invitations for the meeting were issued by the imperial chancery, Dr. Van Bethmann-Hollweg. The conference will deal with food, mainly the question of providing the empire with potatoes for the winter.

SHORTAGE OF CARS

New York, Oct. 21.—Railroads of the United States are suffering from the greatest shortage of cars ever experienced at this time of the year, according to figures made public here. On September 30 there was a net shortage of 61,030 cars. This compares with a surplus of 131,027 cars on October 1, 1914, and of 78,299 on the corresponding date last year. The greatest shortage is in box cars, totaling 33,016 while coal and gondola cars are lacking to the extent of 19,872. The greatest shortage of box cars is in the granger states while the lack of coal and gondola cars is felt most severely in the central and eastern sections. Railway men say the high point of the shortage will be reached some time next month and that mild weather would tend to minimize the difficulty.

Pittsburgh, Oct. 21.—Railroads and mills in the Pittsburgh district are facing a coal famine and it was stated here today that for the first time in years an agent had been sent to Chicago in the hope of buying coal. Prices also are advancing but consumers say they would be willing to pay it if they could get coal. The shortage is laid to the extraordinary demand and to the car shortage which has become acute.

TROOPS AND MEXICANS
CLASHED

San Antonio, Texas, Oct. 21.—American troops and Mexicans clashed near San Jose in the Big Bend country Thursday afternoon, according to a report received by General Funston last night from Colonel Joseph Gaston, commander of the district. The fight lasted 45 minutes. No losses were suffered by the Americans and information is lacking regarding loss among the Mexicans.

Colonel Gaston's report said that a band of about thirty Mexicans opened fire on a detachment composed of twenty-three men of the Sixth cavalry and national guard cavalry squadron engaged in patrol duty between Presidio and Ruidosa. Lieutenant Cudington, of the Texas squadron commanding the troops, ordered his men to return the fire. A vigorous exchange of shots continued for a period of 45 minutes, the Americans and Mexicans firing in skirmish formation from covered positions on either side of the Rio Grande. Information from Colonel Gaston did not indicate that the United States troops crossed in pursuit of the Mexicans. After the fight Lieutenant Cudington returned to Ruidosa with his command. Whether the Mexicans were defeated government troops or members of a bandit band was not known by General Funston.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 21.—General Funston, reporting last night on the exchange of shots across the border at San Jose, said that late reports reaching him indicated the American troops were fired upon "by drunken Mexicans."

FARMERS
LAWN

Long Branch, N. J., Oct. 21.—This is "Farmers' Day" at Shadow Lawn. President Wilson, who returned last night from Chicago, will speak this afternoon before a delegation of farmers from New Jersey and nearby states. The President planned to devote himself principally to telling what the administration has done for the farmers.

The president's next trip away from Long Branch will take him to Cincinnati next Thursday. He will return here in time for the celebration of "Woodrow Wilson Day" next Saturday.

TEUTONS GAIN IN DOBRUDJA

"RELIEF DAYS" FOR ARMENIANS

New York, Oct. 21.—Subscriptions and collections will be taken throughout the United States today and tomorrow for the relief of the destitute and starving Armenians and Syrian subjects of the Turkish empire in accordance with a proclamation issued by President Wilson.

An appeal has been issued to the 17,000,000 Sunday school children of America to contribute. The committee in charge says: "There were 2,000,000 Armenians when the war began. Three quarters of a million have perished. A quarter of a million are refugees in other countries, especially in Russia. One million remain who must be fed and clothed and put up on their feet again. Christian America must do it. Most of the remaining Armenians are utterly destitute, emaciated and starving. The situation of the Syrians is similar to that of the Armenians."

German troops have forced their way into several points of the main positions of the Russians and Rumanians south of Bachova on the Danube in Dobrudja. The troops of the Central Powers captured the Black Sea town of Tuzla after stubborn fighting and stormed the heights northwest of Mulciova. Some 3,000 Russians have been captured by the Teuton and Bulgarian forces and 22 machine guns were taken. The foregoing was announced in the official statement issued today by the German army headquarters.

TAKE BLACK SEA TOWN AND STORM HEIGHTS

Berlin, Oct. 21.—(Via London)—German troops have forced their way into several points of the main positions of the Russians and Rumanians south of Bachova on the Danube in Dobrudja. The troops of the Central Powers captured the Black Sea town of Tuzla after stubborn fighting and stormed the heights northwest of Mulciova. Some 3,000 Russians have been captured by the Teuton and Bulgarian forces and 22 machine guns were taken. The foregoing was announced in the official statement issued today by the German army headquarters.

Narvayka river southwest of Lemberg and held the conquered ground against counter-attacks. Fourteen officers and 2,050 men and 11 machine guns were taken here by Prince Leopold's troops. In Volhynia the fighting continues with varying results, both the Austro-Germans and the Russians claiming repulses of attacks on various sectors. To the north of Kirtia a stubborn battle is being waged, with no decision having yet been reached.

Field Marshal Von Mackensen again has resumed his drive toward the Constantza-Bucharest railroad in Dobrudja. While Berlin reports fighting there as "livelier," Bucharest admits that the Rumanians left wing along the Black Sea coast has been thrown back.

Petrograd reports that the Teutonic attacks were repulsed with heavy losses and that the battle continues.

The Rumanian armies are fighting hard to drive the troops of the central powers back through the frontier passes into Transylvania. Bucharest reports the beginning of an offensive in the Oeretz valley, northeast of Kronstadt, and the taking of Mount Surul, opposite Rothenthurm Pass. Attacks in the Bran defile and Troules and Alt valleys were repulsed by the Rumanians.

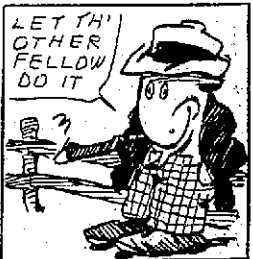

While Paris says the Serbians have captured the town of Vleyselo north of Brod in the region marked by the bend of the Cerina in southern Serbia, Berlin declares the offensive there has come to a halt before the strong forces of the central powers.

Violent fighting continues on Monte Pasubio in the Trentino region, with Rome and Vienna both claiming slight successes.

British Continue To Advance

London, Oct. 21.—The British on the Somme front have made additional headway in their push toward Bapaume along the main road from Albert, according to today's announcement by the war office which records a gain of ground near Butte de Warlencourt.

Petrograd, Oct. 21.—(Via London)—An attack on the Russo-Rumanian lines in Dobrudja by Field Marshal Von Mackensen's forces yesterday resulted in the loss to the defenders of the village at Kikardja, the war office announced today. Later attacks on the entente lines in the same region were repulsed.

Will Fight Until Nobody Will Ever Dare
To Assail Liberty Of Germans, Says Kaiser

London, Oct. 21.—A Central News despatch from Amsterdam today says: "Emperor William, in a speech to the troops on the Western front, after commemorating the dead, said: 'But we who are living will fight further until nobody will ever dare again to assail the honor and liberty of the German people.' The Emperor, adds the despatch, said he hoped God would be with the Germans in the fighting."

Carload Of Goods Stolen

Conneaut, O., Oct. 21.—Nickel Plate Railroad detectives reported today one of the boldest car robberies in many years. A car of goods valued at $6,000 consigned from New York City to Conneaut firm was found empty on a side track near Lackawanna, New York, today.

TYPHUS IN CALIFORNIA

Sacramento, Cal., Oct. 21.—In an effort to prevent the spread of typhus in California, where a number of cases exist, the state board of health it was announced today has ordered that all Mexicans brought into this state be quarantined for fifteen days.

ARTIST DEAD

Paris, Oct. 21.—Raphael Collin, artist, is dead. He was 66 years of age, an officer of the legion of honor and a member of the Academie des Beaux Arts.

Margaret, daughter of Mrs. C. Nagel, of Wait's Station, is ill.

Cleveland, Oct. 21.—A wireless message stated the barge Filer was wrecked off Bar Point, and said that the crew of seven all were drowned excepting the captain, John Mattison.

After being tossed by the tempest at Bar Point the Filer dragged her anchor six miles in the storm and then foundered. The vessel was a ship of 449 tons and sailed from Michigan City and was loaded at Buffalo with coal.

TWO DROWN

Norfolk, Va., Oct. 21.—Seven members of the crew of the four-masted American schooner Fannie C. Bowen, of Fall River, Massachusetts, were brought here this morning by the Norwegian steamer Avon after Captain Carter and the first mate had been lost when the vessel was shipwrecked in mid-ocean.

ONE MAN LOST

Cleveland, O., Oct. 21.—The steamer F. G. Heartwell with ten survivors of the foundered steamer Marshal P. Butters, came into Fairport Harbor near here this afternoon. On board were ten survivors of the Butters. They said one member of the Butters' crew, a wheelman, was lost. The other three members of the crew of fourteen, came in on the steamer F. R. Billings last night.

PASSENGERS SAVED

St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 21.—The steamer Cape Girardeau, bound down the Mississippi for Cape Girardeau, Mo., was driven by a sudden gust of wind against some piling opposite Chester, Illinois, today and sank. The fifty passengers and the crew were taken off safely in life boats. The steamer and her cargo of $30,000 worth of leather, are a total loss. Passengers were asleep in their state rooms when the steamer struck. With the assistance of the crew all entered the harbor without panic.

HUNTING VICTIM

Bellefontaine, O., Oct. 21.—Charles Westmeyer, Dayton, received a load of buckshot in his arm today when a shotgun was accidentally discharged while he was hunting ducks.

SHERIFF SWEPSTON
SENTENCED TO JAIL

Columbus, O., Oct. 21.—Sheriff Alfonso Swebston, of Ross county, vice president of the American Sheriff's Association and president of the Ohio Sheriff's Organization, was given a sentence of forty days in the Delaware county jail by United States Judge John E. Sater today for permitting a federal prisoner in his custody to take long automobile rides and have other liberties outside of the jail at Chillicothe.

Donald Swebston, who is deputy sheriff, and son of Sheriff Swebston, was fined $60. Both were ordered to pay the costs and were released on $500 bond each, pending a hearing of the case on error before the court of appeals.

According to the testimony given at the trial, brought in the form of contempt charges, Charles L. Dye, a liquor dealer of Marietta, serving a six months sentence for violation of the federal liquor laws, was permitted to spend much time outside of the jail. Witnesses stated they saw Dye about the countryside riding around in a high power automobile. Others testified they saw Dye about Chillicothe when he was supposed to be locked up. Sheriff Swebston stated on the stand that he had not known that Dye had been given such liberties.

In sentencing the father and son, Judge Sater complimented the son on his clemency. The decision was lengthy. Donald Swebston, in speaking of the sentence, said: "I regret that the jail sentence was assessed against father. I would willingly have taken the sentence that he saw Dye about the countryside."

THE KOOT POOTS

The Times will begin Monday the publication of a new series of features for the little folks of the community, entitled the "Koot Poots." All little ones greatly enjoyed the series known as "The Goops," and will recollect that the "Goops" were a pretty naughty set at times, and did many things of which their parents could not approve. The "Koot Poots," however, are mighty good little children, and are never found doing anything that isn't nice.

Watch for the "Koot Poots" on the editorial page of The Times Monday.

BY FRENCH

Peking, Oct. 21.—A square mile of territory adjoining the French concession at Tien Tsin has been forcibly seized by the French consul with the assistance of troops. The Chinese police were arrested and French men substituted for them. Replying to a protest from the Chinese foreign office the French legation at Peking replied it assumed the responsibility for the action.

The district occupied by the French is thickly populated and the Chinese are threatening violence, as they have stubbornly resisted for many years annexation to the French concession and in its protest to the French legation the foreign office gave warning that it would not be responsible if violence resulted.

The Chinese press is violently assailing the action of the French, declaring that it "surpassed Japanese tactics and is actual warfare against defenseless China."

John H. McGowan Company Sues City For A Big Sum

The John H. McGowan Pump Company, Cincinnati, Saturday in common pleas court, filed suit against the city of Portsmouth, asking judgment in the sum of $31,154.98, with accrued interest from December 25, 1915, alleged due for work done at the new water works plant.

The petition was gotten up in book form, being the largest petition ever filed in the local court, the petition proper contains 71 pages and with the exhibits, 179 pages.

Thirty-six causes of action are alleged in the document; each one specifying certain material and work performed in installing the pumping equipment in the new water works plant, for which judgment is asked.

The causes named are classified as follows: On August 8, 1912, the plaintiff says that a contract was entered into with the New York Continental Jewell Filtration Company to furnish certain pumping equipment for $76,150.

Later at the request of the company the plaintiff says that the steam coal hoists were replaced by an electric hoist at a cost of $6,205.40. Then December 20, 1915, the work was accepted as complete by J. F. Witmer Company, engineers in charge.

December, 1915, it is further alleged that the city paid $64,727.50, leaving a balance of $11,422.50.

On April 5, 1915, it was necessary to operate the old water works, it is said, and the plaintiff was asked to furnish an extra pump. The cost of transportation and rent is given at $315.20, for which credit is claimed. Other extras claimed under captions of causes for action are: surge pump, $880.54; suction air chamber, $206.88; hot well foundation, $54.91; resetting beams in well, $68.91; valves in low service pumps, $263.01; babbitting bearings, $1075.84; replacement of thrust bearings, $390.14; repair of low service turbines, $584.67; repair of coal hoist, $100.90; maintaining high service pumps, $169.87; repair to low service pumps, $191.76; repair on low duty pumps, $89.05; maintaining condensing apparatus, $91.01; labor, $2723.55; labor, $9071.43; caps, $7.87; tubing, $8.67; bronze nuts, $12.10; shuffling, $31.73; springs and cap leather, $27.60; packing tools, $15.30; brass tubing, $14.50; material, $16.33; valves, $176; material, $347; material, $122.60; material, $27.01; additional employees, $2047; rings furnished, $16; additional employees, $40.53; material, $361.80; shaft bearings, $30; material, $30, and material, $148.88.

All of the foregoing claims for extras and money due on work alleged to have been performed, are itemized.

Popular Lyric Theatre Has Undergone Transformation

The Lyric theatre, one of the finest motion picture houses in this section of the state, as well as one of the best managed, will open its doors, Monday afternoon, after being closed for one week, during which time it has been in the hands of artists, who have effected a wonderful transformation. From entrance to exits the pretty house has been changed in appearance. Everything possible has been done to make the interior, particularly, most pleasing to the eye. The side walls and ceiling have been refrescoed, the color scheme being of a satin effect and one that is not only handsome but quite restful to the eye. The work was done under the supervision of Edward Brehmer, painter and decorator, and the effect is more than pleasing to Manager Mack, who has spared neither time nor expense in making the Lyric stand out prominently as one of the classic amusement houses in the state.

When the doors open Monday, patrons will see one of the most complete picture houses imaginable. One hundred and fifty new seats have been installed, a new silk fibre screen erected and two new motor driven motion picture machines installed. Nothing has been overlooked that will in any way add to the comfort and convenience of patrons. A whole new ventilating system has been installed, and more than 20,000 feet of fresh air will be forced into the theatre every minute.

When the Lyric was erected several years ago, it was thought to be the last word in motion picture houses. It was a beauty in all the word implies, but now it seems to be even more complete and in its new dress of rich colors presents an appearance second to none.

Manager Mack, who has made the Lyric one of the most popular and one of the best patronized theatres in the state, is to be congratulated upon the wonderful transformation. With a continuous care of the high class attractions, there is no doubt but the Lyric will continue to grow in favor with the motion picture lovers of this city. Manager Mack announces a splendid bill for opening day on Monday. It will be a new motor driven motion picture Spanish romantic drama, entitled, "The Tarantula," featuring two local favorites, Antonio Moreno and Edith Storey. As has been the case for some time the Lyric will show Paramount features on Tuesdays and Thursdays, while each week a production from the Greater Vitagraph Co., $25,000,000 corporation, will be produced. Manager Mack has also secured the exclusive service of the World Film Brady Make plays, among the cleanest plays in the world and rapidly coming to be acknowledged in a class by themselves.

Davison's trio will continue to furnish the music. As Manager Mack has a passion for high class theatres in the state, he is to be congratulated upon the wonderful transformation. With a continuous care of the high class attractions,

JUDGE THOMAS HONORED

An honor of which he may justly feel proud and which he greatly appreciates has just been conferred upon Judge James S. Thomas by Chief Justice Hugh L. Nichols of Ohio.

Chief Justice Nichols has assigned Judge Thomas to sit on the common pleas bench at Ravenna, Portage county, the week of November 13 to pass upon some very important litigation, the hearing which Judge Robinson, one of the most noted jurists of Northern Ohio had asked to be relieved. No doubt Judge Thomas' good work on the Scott county bench won for him this recognition of merit from the chief justice.

Train Riders "Shoot Up" Cars

Three men climbing aboard a westbound C. & O. freight train at Ashland, Ky., early Friday evening proceeded to shoot up things on their way down to South Portsmouth. They derived the most pleasure from firing bullets into boxcars of eastbound trains.

Ashland train dispatchers sent word of their coming to South Portsmouth and when their train arrived there at 8 o'clock last night the three men ran into Constable Thompson and Deputy Ben Dugden. Guns were drawn by the officers and one of three train riders, a man said to be Joseph Jones, of Vanceburg, who had secreted himself in the depot after the train halted, fired at Dugden as he bolted from the door. Thompson and Dugden returned the fire, one of their bullets actually clipping the neck off a quart bottle of whiskey carried by Jones, who ran down the railroad track and escaped. The other two men were captured, but were turn-loose as they had no guns on them.

THE LYRIC WILL RE-OPEN MONDAY

After working day and night for a week we will re-open Monday—having redecorated and completely renovated the interior—installed the last word in motor driven picture machines and a new Silk Fibre curtain. We have also improved the heating and ventilation system. It will be the "same old Lyric" soliciting your patronage with the "same old policy" of showing exclusively, clean-high-class pictures supplemented with "good" music. Pictures of a questionable, sensational nature will never be shown at the Lyric under the present management. We will endeavor always to procure the higher class pictures that will provide good clean entertainment for the entire family. Davison's splendid trio has been retained to play afternoon and evening—and we promise some musical surprises this season that will make the town talk. Below is the program for next week. Come early and try to get in.

BAD BREATH

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets Get at the Cause and Remove It

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, act gently on the bowels and positively do the work. People afflicted with bad breath find quick relief through Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The pleasant, sugar-coated tablets are taken for bad breath by all who know them.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets act gently but firmly on the bowels and liver, stimulating them to natural action, clearing the blood and gently purifying the entire system. They do that which dangerous calomel does without any of the bad after effects.

All the benefits of nasty, sickening, griping cathartics are derived from Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets without griping, pain or any disagreeable effects. Dr. F. M. Edwards discovered the formula after seventeen years of practice among patients afflicted with bowel and liver complaint with the attendant bad breath.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are purely a vegetable compound raised with five oil; you will know them by their five color. Take one or two every night for a week and note the effect. 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

serial. This title suggests one of the disguises of "Fantomax" who at one time is a bearded gentleman in evening clothes and at the next may represent any of the various walks of life. A horrible spotted serpent in this number poses as one of the aides of Fantomas, creeping into the bed of Juve, the detective, in the mansion of Beltham, where he and his Pandor have stationed themselves to watch the movements of Fantomas and Lady Beltham. Incidents follow thick and fast in this chapter, including a thrilling train wreck, and an explosion that shatters the big mansion. Besides this feature there are two more make you scream with laughter. A laugh in every inch of the two thousand feet of film.

Powerful Drama at Arcana Theatre Tonight

"The Chance Market" is the title of a three reel drama to be produced at the Arcana theatre tonight, a guaranteed attraction and one that is said to be one of the strongest dramas of the season, dealing as it does with social life. It is a heart interest play and so gripping in its intensity that patrons are held spell-bound. Every foot of film has a climax and those who miss tonight's program will be passing up a wonderful play. The strong program will come to a close with much hilarity in that side splitting comic, "The Terrible Turk," will be produced. This is a scream. Only five cents for this big program. Come and hear and see.

Five Big Feature Reels at The Temple Theatre Tonight

An Essanay drama, one of those gripping plays, entitled "Power" will be the drawing card at the Temple theatre tonight. This is a serial, a story of a man's life, a story of a man's life, a story of a man's life. Manager Harold Potts declares it to be one of the strongest plays of Juve, the detective, in the mansion of Beltham, where he and his Pandor have stationed themselves to watch the movements of Fantomas and Lady Beltham. Incidents follow thick and fast in this chapter, including a thrilling train wreck, and an explosion that shatters the big mansion. Besides this feature there are two more make you scream with laughter. A laugh in every inch of the two thousand feet of film.

At The Strand
"Love and War" is the title of chapter five of "Liberty" that sensational, gripping and patriotic serial shown here every Saturday. Today's episode is replete with many thrilling battles and skirmishes with Mexicans on the border. The love interest in the picture does not sag but increases as the serial progresses. Be sure and see the fifth chapter. "Brennan O' The Moor" is a "Universal" special drama in two reels. You are assured of a good picture for the leading characters are Francis Ford and Grace Cunard. "Sammy Johnson in Mexico" is a Powers cartoon comedy that will make you roar with laughter from the start to finish. An all feature bill every Saturday.

OBITUARY

James W. Gee
 James W. Gee, of Back Run, departed this life Oct. 16, aged 61 years, 4 months, 16 days. He leaves a wife and four children to mourn his loss.

Mrs. Mary Coughlin
 The death occurred on Saturday morning, October 14 of Mrs. Mary Coughlin, mother of Mrs. P. A. Worden of 1721 Eleventh street.
 Mrs. Coughlin had been ailing a little for the past year but her death occurred very suddenly due to an attack of heart trouble.
 Mrs. Coughlin was born in Canada 73 years ago and came to Portsmouth with her daughter 13 years ago. She was a devoted member of Holy Redeemer church. Possessing a most congenial manner and a pleasant, sunny disposition she was loved and respected by all with whom she came in contact.
 She was taken to St. Thomas, Canada, for burial where the funeral was held on Tuesday morning from the home of her daughter, Mrs. M. J. Tracey.
 Requiem high mass was sung at Holy Angel's Cathedral by the Rev. Father McCarthy and prayers were conducted at the grave by Rev. Father West.
 Several appropriate solos were rendered during mass by Prof. Morenzo and Miss Beatrice Tracey.
 The pallbearers were J. A. Tracey, John and Thos. Burke, Edward Reath, John Sweeney, Geo. Rourke, Frank Moore, William Rourke.

The relatives present from a distance: Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Worden and daughter, Norma, Portsmouth, Ohio; Mrs. J. D. Coughlin and daughter, Marie, William Regan, Mrs. K. Regan, Mrs. B. L. Coughlin, Dr. and Mrs. Lillian D. Regan, all of London; D. L. O'Brien, St. Mary's, Judge J. J. Coughlin, Chatham, Miss Margaret Regan, Bothwell, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Tracey, Detroit, Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Regan, Glanworth.
 The floral offerings were numerous and beautiful.

John R. Altmeyer
 John Robert Altmeyer, son of Editor J. Altmeyer, of Mayville, Ky., died Friday after a two years' illness of tuberculosis.

Ambrose Foreine
 Ambrose, bright little seven year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Foreine, who live above New Boston died Friday evening at Hempstead hospital after a short illness due to complications. Mr. Foreine is employed by Contractors Sturm and Dillard. The funeral services were conducted from the St. Mary's Catholic church this afternoon by Father Goebel and interment took place in Greenlawn.

P. H. S. In The Lead

Holy mackerel!
 Portsmouth High School's football eleven has found a team it can beat, for one-half at least.
 The score at the end of the second quarter of the Portsmouth-Chillicothe game this afternoon at Chillicothe was 12 to 0 in favor of P. H. S.
 List, here's sensation. Backfield Men Cramer and Rutherford, of the Chillicothe eleven, indulged in the "wicked weed" while riding to the city on an N. & W. train this morning. A few puffs on a pill and they had broken the training rules and despite the fact that they were the mainstays of the team, they were forced to witness the conflict from the side lines this afternoon, second team men replacing them.
 Plasterers are at work on the building Dr. A. G. Sellards is erecting at 1012 Gallia street.
Rib Fractured.
 Simon Howe, aged 44 years, of No. 1306 Kenyon street, had a rib fractured in an accident at the Whitaker-Glessner Co.'s plant, Saturday. He was loading scrap iron and fell against the edge of a car with the above result.

A Proven Policy

To build QUALITY MOTOR CARS is, and always will be the policy of the Chevrolet Motor Company.

The fulfillment of this policy, proven by the performance record of over sixty-five thousand Chevrolet cars, created the demand which makes quantity production possible.

And it is quantity production, plus pioneer experience and ample resources, which make the price of Chevrolet quality cars so low.

But refinement has in no instance been sacrificed for price.

Chevrolet quality cars are built in two chassis models, the "Four-Ninety," price $490, equipped, and the "Baby Grand," a large, powerful touring car, at $750. These prices are F. O. B. Flint, Mich.

LET US EXAMINE YOUR EYES
In The Modern Scientific Way

Our method of eye examination is the result of 25 years' practical, scientific experience. We have all the very latest appliances for accurately examining the eyes. By using our Ophthalmoscope and Retinoscope we can determine at once the requirements necessary to give you a perfect pair of glasses. There is no guess work about this examination when we use these instruments, as they are absolutely accurate.

HUNDREDS ARE DELIGHTED WITH OUR NEW TORIC LENSES

If you could hear the words of praise given on these lenses by our patrons now wearing them you would not think of buying the old-style flat lenses with their limited field of vision. With our new Toric Lenses you see all-way up, way down and direct vision. They conform to the shape of the eye perfectly.

We have recently installed the largest and most complete lens grinding equipment in the city. This department is in charge of an experienced expert, and the public is invited to watch the interesting work of lens making at any time. Glasses left with us for repair will be delivered to your home or office when finished.

The prices will be very reasonable. We invite you to visit our Optical Department.

No charge made for examination and glasses recommended only when necessary.

LUMBER MILLS CLOSED

Charleston, W. Va., Oct. 21.—Lumber mills at Baskin, La., of the West Virginia Lumber Company will be closed indefinitely by January 2, according to an announcement made today. The company says it has plenty of orders, but shortage of freight cars prevents shipments with any regularity. Several big Louisiana mills have already quit operations for this reason.

SAIL FOR THE FRONT FOR RED CROSS JOBS

New York, Oct. 21.—Thirteen volunteer ambulance drivers and two orderlies leave here on the steamers La Fayette and St. Paul today for service with the American Ambulance in France. At the headquarters of the representatives of the American Ambulance it was stated that the hospital in Paris is now caring for more than 1,600 wounded daily and is greatly in need of volunteer orderlies.

SAYS TEUTONS WILL RETAIN COLONIES

London, Oct. 21.—Dr. Krauss, under secretary for the colonies, speaking at a celebration of the Berlin missionary society, declared his conviction that Germany would not lose her colonies. He declared that the fate of colonies has always been decided on European battlefields and that the present decision must be left to the army and navy.

STICKS TO POST

Detroit, Mich., Oct. 21.—Manned only by his aged captain and two members of his crew, the tug Sham Rhue, of Detroit, was brought ashore to Pelee Island, Ontario, this forenoon. The vessel was disabled in the terrific storm on Lake Erie last night. When a tug came to the rescue early today, it is claimed that five men of the Sham Rhue's crew left their ship and were taken aboard the rescuing ship. Captain Robert Maines, 15 years old, refused to leave his tug and according to reports received here, his engineer and cook decided to stay with him. The skipper steered his ship through the gale to Pelee Island, while the other tug proceeded to Kingsville, Ont.

OPEN BIG DOCK

Washington, Oct. 21.—Panama Canal authorities have just completed and opened to public use a vast dry dock at Balboa, on the Pacific end of the waterway, which is expected to be of the greatest value as a naval asset. The need of the navy for large docks, already very pronounced, promises to become even greater with the completion of the monster superdreadnoughts and the extremely long battle cruisers which have just been planned and are about to be constructed.

The new dry dock, known as Number One, is 1,000 feet long, 110 feet wide, with a depth of 35 feet of water over the blocks at mean tide. Consequently, it can accommodate the largest naval vessel in the world now built or projected.

Tom Cook Hurt

Tom Cook, a teamster for the Interstate Transfer company, met with a painful injury on the Kentucky shore at South Portsmouth Saturday. Cook was approaching the ferry float with a wagon load of cardboard for the Patterson Paper Box company when a single tree of the wagon broke and flew up striking him on the shin. A taxicab removed him to a physician's office and later to his home on Market street.

Eye Is Burned

John Bond, of Union Mills, an employee of the S. Monroe & Son Company, had his right eye badly burned in an accident at the new Micklethwait addition Saturday. Mr. Bond was under a steam shovel closing the cylinder cock when hot water and steam poured into his eye. Dr. W. D. Micklethwait attended him.

Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Lust, of Troy, Ohio, are visiting at the home of Mrs. B. W. Yeley, of Wait's Station.

Interesting Lessons At First Christian

With the coming of fall, Portsmouth has always picked up in her Sunday school attendance. This has been the rule all over the city, and especially at the First Christian Bible school. Always with the tinge of the frosty air, the mercury in the Bible school thermometer has begun to creep upward, so that when the real winter comes, all deficiencies of the summer slump have been overcome. It just seems that the biggest revivals, the biggest evangelistic efforts and the biggest Sunday schools occur in the winter months. Right now the interest in church and Sunday school work is on the increase and there will be all sorts of enthusiasm, crowds and ginger. Probably the Sunday school lessons have something to do with the increased crowds, for there is no more interesting study connected with Sunday school life than the career of the Apostle Paul. Much inspiration is gained from a study of his life, of his triumphs, of his victories over wonderful odds.

Rev. Oakley will teach the adult class and this means an interesting sermon. The adult class will probably reach 400 in number tomorrow. All departments of the school are expected to show increased attendance as the interest is already at the highest tide. Come and enjoy the lesson.

Rev. Oakley will have two interesting sermons, one at 10:30 a. m. and the evening sermon at 7. A welcome awaits everybody at the church of the cordial welcome.

Adkins Guilty Of Murder In Second Degree, Is Verdict

After a four hour and 27 minute deliberation the jury in the case of the state against Ben Adkins, charged with the murder of Wilbur Nickel, young steelworker, Bonser's Run, returned a verdict finding the defendant guilty of murder in the second degree as charged in the indictment. The report was made at 2:12 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

Immediately after the verdict was read by County Clerk John W. Hall, Prosecuting Attorney Joseph T. Micklethwait made a motion that the defendant's bond, which has been $3,000, be raised to $10,000, assigning the verdict returned as the reason. Judge Thomas placed the bond at $5,000.

Attorney Theo K. Funk for the defense filed a motion for a new trial.

Leroy Smith was foreman of the jury.

When the court convened Saturday morning to charge the jury in the case of the state against Ben Adkins, who is charged with the murder of Wilbur Nickel, young steel worker, Bonser's Run, Attorney Theo. K. Funk made a sensational request, when he asked Judge Thomas to appoint a committee composed of three to investigate the charges of subornation which he said were preferred against him by Judge A. Z. Blair, attorney for the state in the closing argument Friday evening.

Attorney Funk declared that he had been a member of the bar for over forty-two years and had never been accused of such action before and if on investigation, it was found that he had been guilty, he said that he justly deserved to quit the profession.

At this juncture Judge Blair entered the court room and in answer to the declarations made by Attorney Funk said that it was nothing more than a plan to influence the jury.

Attorney Funk made a start toward Judge Blair and Nate B. Gilliland, assistant counsel for the defense, intervened. Judge Thomas said that he would investigate the charge later.

In the closing argument Friday afternoon, Judge Blair intimated that the boy, Harry Adkins, had been instructed in his testimony,

Glues At Party, Appetites Hearty, Says O. S. Journal

The Ohio State Journal today had the following:

"Only 48 hours after the treasurer of the Republican state executive committee returned from New York with what Frank H. Hitchcock called the 'distribution,' the so-called True (or Glue) Democracy held its meeting yesterday. It was large and enthusiastic compared to the first meeting, which drew only a handful. Then, again, the meeting was behind closed doors and everybody who came out later was smiling.

To begin, Chairman E. A. Crawford, of Adams county, who used to be a regular Democrat until he was separated from the payroll under the administration of former Governor Cox, decided it would be fine to have a little party. Accordingly, he asked all the 'Trues' who had railroad fare to come to Columbus—lacking the fare, but to get to Columbus.

Everything Paid For

Managers of the 'Glues' said they had 107 present, but a count failed to disclose more than 60-odd, and some of those ran away as soon as they had lunch. It was a well-appointed lunch, too, and Chairman Crawford presided with easy Adams county grace at the head of the table and asked all the boys in his gracious way, to eat heartily. Everything was paid for.

So it didn't cost anybody anything and the food was real good, too, and the waiters gave everyone a second helping if he cared for it. One man complained he had not been told of the 'cents' and 60 cents were because, he said, he paid 30 cents for a lunch that did not look half as good as the one the other 'Trues' had.

After luncheon had been served and the legions had figured out what the finger bowls were for—that is, some of the 'Trues' who do not often get to the city—Chairman Crawford led the grand march to the fourth floor, where, he said, the fellows might inspect his bedroom and drawing room, which also served as headquarters for the league. Here Chairman Crawford and Rev. Frank Richards, who is a fire marshal under Governor Willis, were graciousness itself in making all the 'Trues' feel at home.

Then, too, Mr. Crawford opened a box of cigars, but they didn't last long. He started to take the box, but before he could get it firmly in hand every 10-cents in it had disappeared and there was nothing to do but send for another box.

The meeting then adjourned to the sixth floor, where Mr. Crawford said there was private business to attend to.

Later it was said that it was merely an organization meeting. It was admitted that President Willis is very strong in every district represented and is likely to sweep the

Wife Gets Divorce

Caroline Sherman was granted a divorce from John Sherman, Saturday, in common pleas court by Judge Thomas. The direct ground upon which the decree was granted was to direct the defendant from his property rights in a 90-acre tract of land in Porter township, which the wife says she inherited, and to which she has accumulated $9 additional acres.

Extreme cruelty was alleged in the petition. Both parties in the action have lived on Dogwood Ridge for the past 22 years without speaking, it was said.

The wife, in her petition, says that she was married to the defendant 27 years ago and that five years after the marriage her husband left her with a family of three children.

Judge Milner represents the plaintiff.

Local German's View Of European War

(Written by Louis F. Korth, former Editor of The Correspondent.)

Friday, October 20, 1916. The Associated Press correspondent wires a specific account of the last big battle on the Somme from October 9 to October 13 north and south of the river from the Thiepval-Concrelette to the Fresnoy-Chaulvies sector, which exceeded in ferocity, especially of the artillery action, anything that has preceded it on the west front. It was an attempt to break through on the largest scale, first class fighting, but a defeat with enormous losses for the allies, the correspondent says. They ignore the extent of it in their report to cover up that of their defeat, he charges. Does anyone ever voluntarily admit defeat?

The French have enlarged the wedge over the Bapaume-Péronne road by advancing their front to Sailly, half way between the two towns, but failed in their effort to extend it beyond Bouchavesnes so as to flank Peronne and force the Germans out of it. The British which attacked with the same object from Morval and Guedecourt had no better luck.

Yesterday evening the German war office again reported desperate fighting in this sector. The attacks lasted from daybreak until noon but were all repulsed. The German positions were held or recaptured after being lost.

In today's report it is stated that the Germans have recaptured a trench system at L'Abbaye on the Bapaume road.

General Krussloff had no better luck in Volhynia and Galicia than Joffre, or rather Foch, and Haig have had on the Somme. With heavy masses he again attacked Linsingen west of Lutsk, Besen-Binnoli on the Narajivka (Brody-Leinberg) and Bothmer on the Zlota Lipa (Halicz-Lemberg). But neither Kovel nor Lemberg have been taken nor any part of the center broken.

Against General Terstanski's position (Austrians) north of Zaturze, which covers the road from Lutsk to Vladimir, south of Kovel, the Russians in deep columns stormed ten times, on the Narajivka, north of Halicz, eight times in vain. Here the Prussian guards made a counter charge and took the Russian trenches with 1900 prisoners and a number of machine guns.

Petrograd gave out yesterday that the Germans have started an offensive on the Stockholms-Volhynia and Berlin reported heavy fighting east of Zaturze, which indicates that the Russians have been forced back.

The official reports about the Rumanian campaign are veiled by more than the usual staff lacconism. No clue to new plans and movements. With the clearance of Siebenbruggen the Austro-Germans have arrived at the waymark, one arm pointing to Rumania, the other to southern Russia. If they follow the first one Wallachia will be the field of winter fighting, may be a joint campaign of Falkenhayn and Mackensen against Bucharest, in the other case it will be Moldavia and Bessarabia, where the Russians are said to be concentrating big forces.

The fighting in Siebenbruggen seems to have been transferred to Rumania. The country has been cleared of invaders which was the main object. Only in the Gyorgio mountains scattered Rumanian bands are yet fighting with the Hungarians and the wolves.

In the Dorna Watra (South Carpathian) country on the Rumanian-Bukovina boundary line the Austrians have forced the Russians back east of Kiribaba and the Rumanians out of the Nagara Valley. There General Avz now operates on Rumanian soil toward the Bistritza.

The important Gyimes Pass, through which the only railroad between Moldavia and Transylvania runs is said to be in German hands.

Bucharest speaks of fighting at Predcal, south of the Tornaues

Pass on the road from Kronstadt to Bucharest. Here the Rumanians are struggling for the retention of the Sin aja defile.

The Toerzburg Pass has also been cleared and there are reports of fighting at Ruaru and Kimpelung south of it.

Berlin states that General Krafft has taken the Chimen Defilee south of the Thurn Pass.

In Dobudja where General Mackensen has taken up the offensive again, he broke the Rumanian left north of Lake Tekir, forced it back and is pressing the center.

From the Saloniki front the Sofia war office reports that the French attacked the Bulgarians positions north of Florina on the Monastir road but were repulsed with heavy loss. Before the front of one battalion not less than 455 dead were buried.

The Serbians attempted to break the Bulgarian lines on the Cerna river. Sunday night they made eight different attacks between Brod and Svorcier. Everyone of them was repulsed. In late reports the Serbians claim that they have taken Brod after forcing the Cerna. The German war office says they have been halted after a temporary success.

Paris announces that an offensive has been started on the Vardar in the center of the Saloniki front along the railway line to Uskub and Nish.

The British claim they have pushed their left flank east of the Struma to Bursuk in the direction of Semir Hissar and the eastern railroad.

Constantinople claims continued progress on the Caucasian front. On the Egyptian front, east of Suez, two British cavalry regiments were defeated and scattered in the open field. Two powerful West-Arabian Sheiks have joined the Turks.

The last general offensive of General Cadorna in the Austrian coastland from Gorizia to Trieste has miscarried, the same as preceding ones. He had concentrated his forces principally against the Austrian Southern wing between the heights east of Goerz and the Adriatic. For a whole week from Saturday to Saturday, the third Italian army with parts of the second, 16 divisions, attacked continually, day and night, but the Austrians held their positions against all odds until the enemy was exhausted as Vienna proclaims. Berlin says "The Italian big push on the Isonzo, undertaken to relieve Rumania, has ended with failure. The Austrians have repulsed all Italian attacks without taking a single regiment from another front. General Cadorna, wasted enormous masses of heavy munition without helping his infantry by it."

The Austrian front on the Isonzo has not been affected by the latest fighting. It runs now as before, along the west slopes of the Daniole, Carco and Peter Mountains and south of the Wipach to the Terstjoh heights, where it finds strong flank protection.

The Rumanian munition carrier Vistrida, 3688 tons, was sunk by a German submarine on the voyage from Brest to Archangel, as Christiana reports. Ship and cargo were insured for 25 million kronen in Norwegian companies.

The German admiralty announces that the French cruiser Rigel, built as a submarine destroyer, and the Italian protected cruiser Libia were torpedoed in the Mediterranean. The first one was sunk, the other badly damaged. An explosion occurred on the Italian battleship Regina Margherita at Spezia. The matter has been kept secret.

Colonial Secretary Soli stated in the Reichstag that considerable territory in German East Africa was yet held and energetically defended by the German Colonial troops.

Large and enthusiastic popular demonstrations for king and government and collisions between Allies troops and the people in Athens have followed the coercion of the Greek fleet and the occupation of public buildings and barracks. The fleet has been rendered impotent like the government and the people fear that the land troops will be pressed into the service of the Entente just as the fleet has been.

King Constantine reviewed the marines driven from their ships. He thanked them for their loyalty to the flag and for not taking the bribes of the Venizelos rebels, who have established a provisional government at Saloniki under the wings of the Allies and on the island of Crete, which has been recognized by the Entente powers against international usage.

Earl Grey has declared that the coercive measures were taken for the protection of the Allies but the loyal Greek press says have his intrigues to force the king into war or abdication. The Hellenic parallels the gross violation of Greek neutrality with the tyrannizing of Denmark by Great Britain during the Napoleonic wars for joining the Continental Neutrality League which was to preserve the freedom of the seas. The British bombarded Copenhagen, laid 28 streets in ashes and captured the whole Danish fleet, thereby destroying Denmark's commerce and seapower like that of Holland.

The Greek government has protested to the United States and the other neutral nations against the exercise of police power by the Allies on Greek territory as a brutal violation of the sovereign rights of Greece.

The king has given order to suppress all demonstrations against the Entente but they continue.

King Carol of Rumania has appealed to the Allies, which drove him into the war, to help him out of it and not let his country suffer the fate of Serbia and Belgium, according to the London Times. The fight of Rumania is directed against Austria-Hungary, not against Germany, for which it always had a friendly feeling, because Germany was an asset to the development of Rumania and a potent instrument in furthering its prosperity, the king said, but the war had changed that. This is the king's excuse for breaking the alliance with Germany and Austria, but the diplomatic correspondence between the Austrian and Rumanian governments from July, 1914, to August, 1916, as contained in the just published Vienna Redz book puts another face upon the matter. It reveals that the Rumanian Premier Bratianu on August 8 demanded territorial concessions (the Bukovina) for maintaining neutrality and that Rumania had mobilized and concentrated troops on the Austrian frontier but none on the Russian. Austria refused and called on Rumania to unambiguously state her position.

In the night of August 26 Bratianu assured the Austrian ambassador at Bucharest that Rumania only would fight when attacked. On the very next day, however, it declared war on Austria.

The question of food for man and beast is now a burning one in Great Britain, as much so as it is in Germany, uppermost in the government's and everybody else's mind. It was discussed in fullness and to all details in the

"It seems strange that it should be necessary to call attention to the fact that we are not a race, Anglo-Saxon, Teutonic, Latin, Celtic, or any other, but a nation made up of many races," says an American writer. "It is true that we are an English speaking people as a whole, as also are the Scotch, the Irish, the Welsh, who are no more Anglo-Saxon than they are Hindu. Since the formation of the republic our population has been increased from every race of Europe and the contributions from Continental sources far outnumber those from England." How then can the English claim our exclusive sympathy for them and their cause from what they call patriotism of race in distinction from patriotism of country or a self-styled American Anglo-Saxon attempt to impose his own ancestry upon the rest of us?"

Aha! The Straw Vote Is With Us

A straw vote was taken at the Smoke House the past week, and according to a statement made Saturday by Frank Stanton, one of the proprietors of the place, the vote was as follows: Hughes 131, Wilson 71, Willis 119 and Cox 73.

Hammer Club Also Votes

This is a story of two polls. Not the kind that you sink in the ground or those that come from Poland, but honest-to-goodness political polls.

The Hammer Club was enjoying one of its liveliest sessions Friday when matters drifted to politics. Quickly a poll was taken and it favored Wilson 7 to 2. President Henry J. Fivier, sent in a frame up dismissed his "cabinet" and after rounding up men whom he believed would line up for Hughes, he took a little poll of his own and it showed 8 for Hughes and 1 for Wilson.

Now there is "bind" on the political moon that hangs over the Hammer club and from now on day polls will be taken to test the political preference upon the left and ever obliging president.

BOASTED HE WOULD HAVE SEVEN WIVES; WIFE GETS DIVORCE

During the hearing of the divorce case of Gertrude Messer against John Messer, Saturday in common pleas court before Judge Thomas, it was claimed that the defendant said: "I will have seven wives before I die." It was further claimed that the defendant had divorced one wife in Kentucky.

The plaintiff was given a decree of divorce by Judge Thomas on the ground of extreme cruelty.

Blair and Kimble represent the plaintiff.

Miss Dolly Wise

She is here to answer any and all questions concerning love, matrimony, troubles, woes, etiquette, etc. Inquiries should be addressed to Miss Dolly Wise, care The Daily Times, Portsmouth, O. Office Phone 50.

larger.

Dear Miss Wise—The writer has been traveling considerable and has often wondered why property owners do not plant more fruit trees, such as cherry, peach, plum, and there are a variety of other kind in their back yards instead of the regular forest trees. The fruit trees make shade and bear fruit, and what is better than a large, juicy peach taken ripe off the tree? Thanking you by urging more trees to be planted.

AN OBSERVER.
I agree with you, and what's more, I have the finest peach tree, or rather a tree which produces the finest peaches in Scioto county in my back yard, also a cherry tree which I am not so proud of, although it is a fine shade tree. Would suggest that every property owner in the city "set out" at least two fruit trees in their back lots this fall or spring.

Dear Miss Wise—Tell C. S. S. that the words "Rea Pulcherrima" are Latin. They mean "Things most beautiful," and the Latin pronunciation is Rea Pulcherrima. The letter "A" in "Rea" is pronounced like "A" in "Age." The first "i" in "Pulcherrima" is pronounced like "i" in "kiss"; the second "i" the same way; the third "i" like "i" in "ice." The last page has appeared in the paper.

Dear Dolly—As I am somewhat of a church-goer, it sometimes gets me vexed to have to either sit or stand behind a lady with a large hat. Now these ladies ought to be somewhat considerate for other church-going folks and leave the umbrella hat at home. Thanking you kindly for calling the attention of the ladies to this matter, I am,

A CHURCH-GOER.

World suggest that you sit in the front seat hereafter, cause the dear ladies' hats are getting larger and word is accented on the syllable "kris." Will you please tell me the meaning of the letters R. S. V. P. on an invitation and their significance? Also can you give a good recipe for jelly-roll cake, one that will roll without cracking? I have tried many, but if the cake is as much as an inch in thickness after baking it will crack.

VERSATILE.
Thanks for the Latin translation. R. S. V. P. means "Answer if you please." Jelly Roll—One and one-third cups sugar, 3 eggs, 1 cup sweet milk, 2 cups flour, teaspoon each of cream tartar and soda, bake in quick roll with jelly as soon as taken from the oven. Here is another recipe—Three whole eggs, 1 cup soft white sugar, 1 tablespoon water to moisten the sugar, 1 cup sifted flour, 1-2 teaspoons of baking powder. Bake 20 minutes in a quick oven, spread with jelly and roll at once. I do not know why the roll should crack, unless it was cooked too much.

Miss Dolly—To answer what 3-7 of chicken, 2-3 cat and 1-2 goat equal. Well, now to begin, 3-7 chicken is Chi; 2-3 cat is cat; and 1-2 goat is go. Now put them together and they spell "Chicago," the swellest little village on the map. Get me, Dolly? MAYONAISE.

HEAD SO DIZZY COULD NOT STAND

Lady Felt Like Falling at Times on Account of Trouble Which Was Finally Relieved by Cardui.

Nelsonville, Ohio.—"About four years ago," writes Mrs. Minnie Perry, of this town, "I had such spells with my head, I thought I could not live. I tried many different kinds of remedies, but they did me no good.

It seemed I got worse, and my head would just get so dizzy, I would fall wherever I was standing, and I could not walk, unless I held up by something. The trouble all seemed to be in my head.

About a year ago I saw Cardui, the woman's tonic, advertised and sent for a bottle. I got so much better that I

Invitations have been issued for a dance to be given in Richardson's hall, Fifth and Chillicothe street next Wednesday evening by the Ah Go On club. Davison's orchestra will furnish the music. Refreshments will be served. The committee is composed of Pat Kelly, Samuel Ware, Fred Klingman, George Ahrend, Harold Thompson and W. W. Weber.

The All Saints' Woman's Auxiliary will meet next Tuesday afternoon, instead of Thursday, at the home of Mrs. Robert Barry, on Fourth street. The change of day was made on account of the Ladies' Aid Society giving a supper on Thursday.

The Whatsoever Guild of All Saints' church will meet Monday evening, at 7:30 o'clock, at the home of Miss Marie Crosby, 1806 Seventh street.

Miss Dorothy Wright will go to Athens the last of next week to spend the week-end with Miss Ruth Baker at the Ohio University.

The members of the New Century Club who are going to Mrs. Feurt's home next Friday afternoon, please notify Mrs. Hattie Russell or Mrs. Louella Wendel not later than Monday, so that arrangements can be made to take them to the Feurt home on Scioto Trail.

Mrs. Mary E. Skelton, Ninth street, was given a "birthday" party Thursday evening by her children, in honor of her fifty-seventh birthday anniversary. Those present were: S. Anselm Skelton, Mr. and Mrs. John R. Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Warnock, of Greenup, celebrated their golden, or fiftieth wedding anniversary Friday. During the day thirty-five guests and relatives called at the home. Mrs. James Braden and Mrs. Lizzie Womack, of Fullerton, were among the relatives present. Mr. and Mrs. Warnock were married in Portsmouth fifty years ago Friday. They have always lived in Greenup county, Ky., and for the past five years have resided in Greenup. Mr. Warnock is 73 and his companion 70, both being in the best of health. The house was decorated with roses and dahlias.

A miscellaneous shower was given at the home of Miss Elvora Biggs in Greenup, Friday, for Miss Margaret Morton, who is to be married next Wednesday to William Hocka, a well-known druggist of Mayville, Ky. A number of beautiful and useful presents were received.

Mr. and Mrs. R. N. Tridder and son, Biney, of Wamsleyville, are guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Tracy, on Waller street.

The Woman's Literary Club held the second of this fall's meetings Friday afternoon at the club parlors, where there were twenty-five present. Mrs. Lena Kline Read read an interesting paper on the "Customs and Schools of the Philippines," after which there was a discussion of Dr. Allard's paper read at the last meeting. Miss Lucy Mahlem, who is here from New York, was a guest.

Mr. and Mrs. George M. Taylor had as guests at dinner last evening Mrs. H. S. Grimes, Mr. and Mrs. Harry E. Taylor and their guests, Dr. and Mrs. Claude Parker, of Galipolis.

Prepare This for a Bad Cough—It's Fine

Cheapsy and Bessy Made, but Does the Work Quickly.

The fastest cough syrup that money can buy, costing only about one-fifth as much as ready-made preparations, can easily be made up at home. The way it takes hold and conquers distressing coughs, throat and chest colds will really make you enthusiastic about it. Any drugstore can supply you with 2½ ounces of Pinex (50 cents worth). Pour this into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup. Shake thoroughly and it is ready for use. The total cost is about 54 cents and gives you a full pint—a family supply—of a most effective, pleasant-tasting remedy. It keeps perfectly.

It's truly astonishing how quickly it acts, penetrating through every passage of the throat and lungs—loosens the inflamed or swollen throat membranes, and gradually but surely the cough will disappear entirely. Nothing better for bronchitis, spasmodic croup, whooping cough or bronchial asthma. Pinex is a special highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, combined with quassia and is known the world over for its prompt healing effect on the throat membranes.

Avoid disappointment by asking your druggist for 2½ ounces of Pinex with full directions and don't accept anything else. A guarantee of absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded goes with this preparation. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

The Second Street Whist Club will be entertained next Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. L. P. Haldeman, on Gallia avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. William Hamilton, who have been living in Fire Brick, have moved to South Webster, where Mr. Hamilton is in charge of the brick works there. Mr. Ben Hitchcock has taken Mr. Hamilton's place at Fire Brick and Mr. Loren Hitchcock has taken the place made vacant by Mr. Ben Hitchcock.

Mrs. Catherine Corwell has gone home to Huntington at the end of a visit among relatives in this city.

Dr. and Mrs. F. J. Kline have returned from a business and pleasure trip in the East.

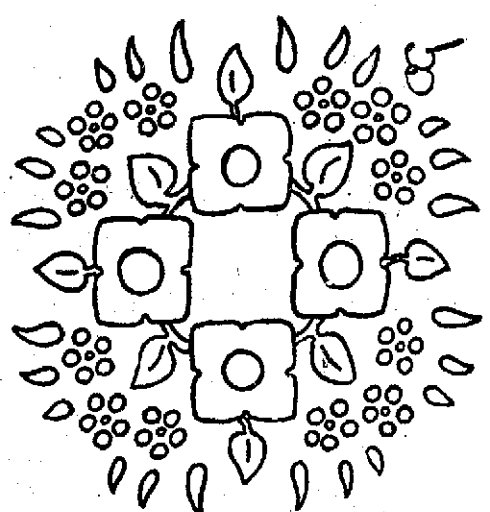

Mr. and Mrs. Alan Jordan entertained at dinner last evening in honor of their mother, Mrs. J. A. Jordan, of Columbus. Covers were laid for Mr. and Mrs. Levi D. York, Mrs. W. H. H. Cadot, Mrs. James W. Bannan and Mrs. A. D. Stevens, of Radford, Va., Mrs. J. A. Jordan, Mr. and Mrs. Alan Jordan.

Thomas Lowe, brakeman in the yards at the N. & W. Terminals, and Miss Nettie Artis, daughter of Mrs. Mary Artis, of 1824 Eighth street, went to Ironton and were married October third and are now residing at the home of the groom's parents, 2369 Eighth street.

Mr. and Mrs. Alan Jordan and mother, Mrs. J. A. Jordan, of Columbus, Mr. and Mrs. R. D. York, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Longfellow, Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Stevens, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Moulton and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hall motored to Maple Grove Springs today to stay over the week-end. They will be joined tomorrow by Mr. and Mrs. Levi D. York and Mr. and Mrs. Leslie C. Turley.

Mrs. J. L. Treuhart is expected home this evening from Dayton, where she went to attend the convention of the State Federation of Women's Clubs.

Your Last Opportunity to Buy a Lot

So quickly have the lots in this addition been going that we have only 26 left that are as fully desirable as any already sold. We are going to dispose of these in the next few days at such reasonable price and on such easy terms that you will miss both an opportunity and a bargain, if you do not take one or more of them at once. We commend them not only for their splendid location but their attractiveness as an investment. The growth of population eastward is strong and Nirvana itself is building up rapidly so prices are bound to advance.

We point with satisfaction to the fact that every promise we made in regard to Nirvana has been fulfilled. Concrete sidewalks are laid. Gallia street is paved from Portsmouth through Nirvana and a traction line runs along the west and south lines, thus making communication with the city easy. Gas mains have been laid and a fine central high school is being built on the addition.

If you want to get out where the sun shines, where you can be free from the noise, smoke and dirt of the city, have elbow room and enjoy the advantages of city and country combined, you can find no happier place than Nirvana. The lots are large, 50 by 200 feet, and you can have your own garden, flower beds and lawn as extensively as you may wish.

If you wish a home of your own here is the place above all to secure it and we are so willing to have you come that if you will buy a lot we will build you a home and arrange such terms of payment that, if you be even a modest wage earner, you will find no hardship in meeting them.

NIRVANA

The Delightful

All things considered, is Portsmouth's finest suburban addition. It lies far above high water mark, has a fine natural drainage and lies adjoining the quaint village of Wheelersburg and close up with the best farming section in the county. Churches of various denominations are convenient and the schools have a state reputation for their superior worth. Besides the traction line there is the great Norfolk and Western passing close to the property. Already there is a pleasant little community domiciled on the addition, where fifteen houses have been built so far and four more are under contract. It is likely the number will be more than doubled by this time next year.

Who Are the Present Lot Owners

As we said before we take pride in the fact that every representation we have made regarding Nirvana rested upon the solid basis of fact. Here is a list of lot owners therein, which will show just how many we have and the excellent class of people who mean to reside thereon:

FATAL AUTO ACCIDENT

Columbus, Oct. 21.—One man was killed and four other people were more or less seriously injured early this morning when the machine in which they were riding skidded, turned completely around and over on East Broad street near the Columbus Country club. The dead man is R. L. Compton, aged 40, of Newark, whose neck was broken when he was pinned beneath the car. Other occupants of the machine were Mrs. Compton, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Hulshizer and their daughter. One of Mrs. Hulshizer's ankles is broken and she may be hurt internally. Her daughter sustained bruises about the chest, but her condition is not thought to be serious. Mrs. Compton was also injured, but to what extent is not yet known. Mr. Hulshizer, the only one of the party not injured, was driving the car. All the people are from Newark and were on their way to Oxford, Ohio, to spend the week end.

The body of Mr. Compton was brought here and the other occupants of the machine were taken to Grant hospital.

Vanceburg Notes

Of local interest the Vanceburg, Ky., Sun this week said: The stockholders of the Lewis County Fair Association met at the court house this week and elected the following officers for the ensuing year:

President—C. L. Tannan.
Vice-President—J. M. Lee.
Secretary—J. P. Strother.
Treasurer—T. M. Bowman.
Directors—G. P. Adams, John C. Walker, W. T. Cooper, Samuel Pollett, J. B. Willim, Frank Lykins, O. P. Pollitt.

Otto Latham has left for Washington, D. C., to file a patent on a new carburetor he has invented, which he claims will enable an automobile to make 40 miles on a gallon of gasoline. From there he will go to Brooklyn, where he will enter an art school.

John Lewis, the clever section foreman at this place, came very near losing his life while he and his force of men were loading an old rail on a car. One end of the rail, which weighed 1,100 pounds, had been lifted onto the car and John was holding it in place while the men lifted the other end, when it slipped and struck him on the head, then fell to his shoulder and went on down to the ground. Fortunately it did not get him squarely under it or it would have easily crushed him to death.

Fiscal court adjourned Thursday after attending to routine business. Ed McGill was re-elected keeper of the infirmary.

Otto Latham sold the Alton City Garage yesterday to Mr. Chas. Kerr. Richard Moore, of Black Oak, bid in the residence of the late George T. Hulbert at public auction yesterday at $3,250.

WITH THE SICK

Mrs. William Gergens, wife of a well known former city public service director, is seriously ill with gall stones at their home, No. 1029 Fourteenth street. A physician was in almost constant attendance at her bedside Saturday. Mr. Gergens himself is also laid up with heart trouble.

Mrs. John Adamson, of Ninth street, is dangerously ill with rheumatism.

Mrs. Blanch Evans, of Blue Creek, Adams county, who recently underwent a surgical operation performed in the Hempstead hospital, was removed to the home of relatives on the West Side, Saturday.

Andrew Glass continues to improve at his home on Second street. He is ill with typhoid fever.

Mrs. W. L. Creasy, 1237 Third street, who has been sick for several days, is better.

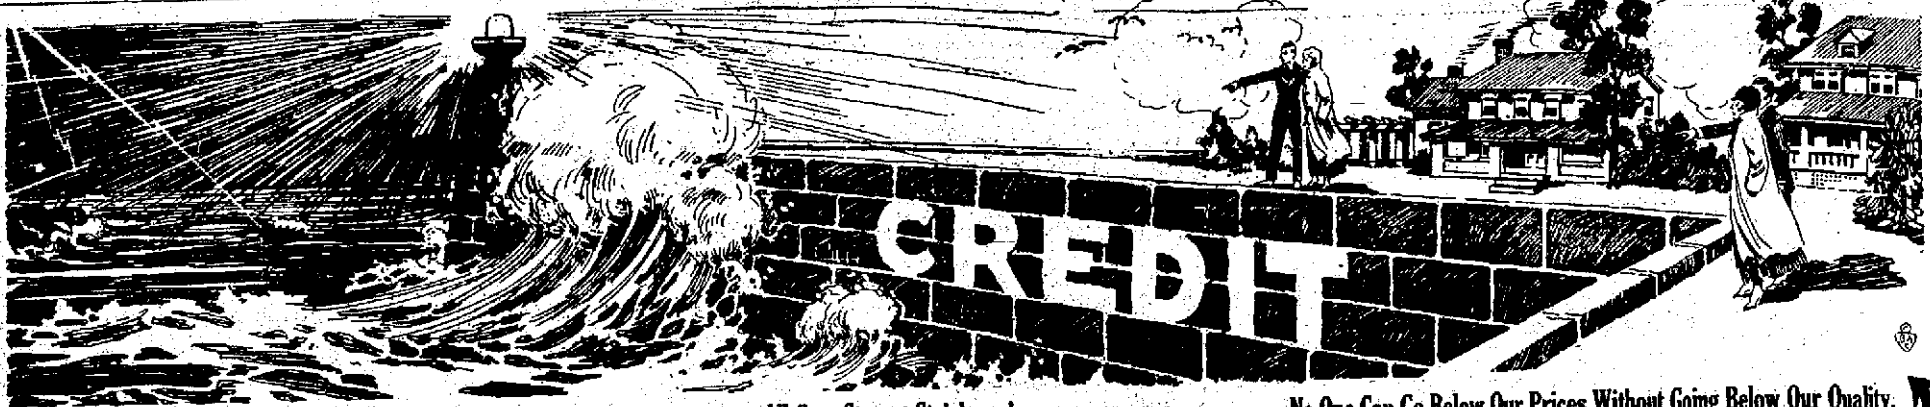

Miss Ella Stevens returned from an extended visit in the northern part of the state Saturday. She was called home by the serious illness of her grandmother, Mrs. A. G. Stevens, Sixth street.

The restaurant just installed in the plant of the Whitaker-Glessner Company will be opened Monday at noon to those having coupon books. Book users please take notice.

WEST END NEWS

Charles Joseph Dies From Blow From Fellow Workman

Charles Joseph, Jr., aged 26, a shoemaker, who following an argument, was struck over the head with an iron-plated shoe last by a fellow employee, Clifford Dickerson, at the upper Irving Drew shoe factory, Wednesday afternoon, Oct. 11, died at Hempstead hospital Friday night at 9 o'clock.

Concussion of the brain caused the young man's death, his skull having been fractured on the left side, two inches above the ear. He had partially regained consciousness at times since the assault but was never able to utter a single word since the afternoon he was struck down. His young wife, Mrs. Edna Golden Joseph, visited him shortly before he died and Rev. Father J. E. McGuirk administered the last rites of the Catholic church of which he was a member.

Dickerson is still at large, having skipped out immediately after the assault. He was reported to have returned to Portsmouth a few nights ago from Eastern Kentucky, where he has relatives and the home of a relative was searched but without result. Dickerson boarded at a home near Gallia and Prospect streets.

The assault occurred in the packing room of the shoe factory. Joseph had been employed there but four weeks, having previously worked for eight months at the Selby factory. It is said the two argued over base ball and that Dickerson later sneaked up behind him and without warning struck him with a last. He immediately left the factory and Dr. J. D. Jordan was called to attend the injured man, who was rushed to the hospital.

Joseph and his wife kept light housekeeping at the Theodore Warner home No. 910 Seventh street. They were married at Sistriville, W. Va., April 20, 1915, and came to Portsmouth just a year ago. Mr. Joseph had also worked at the Krippendorf shoe factory in Cincinnati for a short time before coming to Portsmouth. He was a son of the late Charles Joseph, Sr., a wholesale fruit dealer of St. Mary's, W. Va. where his widowed mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Joseph and 3 sisters Mary, Lizzie and Catherine and one brother, Jack Joseph, reside. Another brother, Taft Joseph, is in the West.

The remains will be taken on the 7:30 N. & W. train this evening to Kenova and there transferred to a B. & O. train for St. Mary's, where burial will take place.

Coroner Dr. J. W. Daehler and Dr. Oscar R. Micklethwait held a post mortem examination on the body at Lynn's morgue Saturday morning. They found a wound 1½ inches long and 2½ above the left ear and a depressed fracture underneath the bone which had caused an injury to the brain, resulting in paralysis to the body, and hemorrhages.

Coroner Daehler said he would hold an inquest in the case Monday or Tuesday.

Work on the new school building being erected in Otway is progressing so rapidly that it will be under roof in ten days. It is being built by the Portsmouth Construction Co. of this city.

In Queen City.
 Karl Zoellner has returned from a business trip to Cincinnati.

Concrete Poured

The S. Monroe & Son Company has its forms set for pouring concrete for the curbing of the new West Side road to be paved. Concrete has already been poured for the various culverts on the road.

Buys New Runabout

The Tracy Shoe Company has purchased a fine Ford runabout for the use of one of its traveling men, John Montavon, in going over his territory in West Virginia.

Arc Lights Are Needed

The West End Improvement association expects to get busy next week in trying to hasten shipment of the electric arc lights ordered from a South Bend, Ind. firm some time ago. The concern has acknowledged the contract but sent word that it is flooded with orders. Efforts will also be revived by the association to get the county commissioners to place electric lights along the Township.

Sells Grocery

Charles E. Hancock, former city fire chief, has sold his grocery on Washington street, near Seventh, to Henry Howe, who will take possession November 1. Mr. Hancock expects to go to St. Augustine, Florida, for the winter on a prospecting trip. Mr. Howe has been employed at the Winter shoe store for the past six years.

Gets Shipment of Frog Legs

W. K. Ruark, local agent for the Wells-Fargo Express Company, received a big shipment of frog legs from Minneapolis, Minn., Saturday morning and had no trouble disposing of the supply.

As Assistant

William Winters, a son of Captain Fred Winters, has taken a position as assistant book keeper at Albert Maier's Lion beer agency on Front street.

The West End was fairly overrun with wagon loads of potatoes Saturday. Jim Mitchell, of the West Side, alone had several wagon loads. He was asking $1.40 a bushel. "It is hard to get any line on the potato market, but I really believe there will be a drop in price before long," said Grocer W. M. Payne.

Moving To Warren

O. W. McCulloch, formerly employed as a roller in the Whiteaker-Glessner plant, is moving his family to Warren, O., where he recently took a job as a roller in a steel mill.

A CHILD DOESN'T LAUGH AND PLAY IF CONSTIPATED

Look, Mother! Is Tongue Coated, Breath Feverish and Stomach Sour?

"California Syrup of Figs" Can't Harm Tender Stomach, Bowels

Mother! Your child isn't naturally cross and peevish. See if tongue is coated; this is a sure sign its little stomach, liver and bowels need a cleansing at once. When listless, pale, feverish, full of cold, breath bad, throat sore, doesn't eat, sleep or act naturally, has stomach-ache, diarrhea, remember, a gentle liver and bowel cleansing should always be the first treatment given.

Nothing equals "California Syrup of Figs" for children's ills; give a teaspoonful, and in a few hours all the foul waste, sour bile and fermenting food which is clogged in the bowels passes out of the system, and you have a well and playful child again. All children love this harmless, delicious "fruit laxative", and it never fails to effect a good "inside" cleansing. Directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups are plainly on the bottle.

Keep it handy in your home. A little given today saves a sick child tomorrow, but get the genuine. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs" then look and see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company."

THEATRICAL

"Under Cover," A Play With A Surprise.

A melodrama of crime and its detection, of smuggled jewels and the forces of the law closing in upon the smuggler, of a girl driven to the aid of the detectives against the promptings of her affection, of alarms in the night, of whistles heard out under the shrubbery, of lights switched on and off, and of revolvers fired in the dark. This is "Under Cover," which will be the next offering of the Broadway Players at the Sun Theatre the first-half of the week. Thus far it is not strikingly different from the melodramas which in overflowing numbers have been invading the theater. But "Under Cover" is something different, something more, for above all it is an ingeniously fashioned play, so constructed that its most vigorous thrust comes in the form of a surprise which is withheld until the very last moment of the last act, a moment when only too often at the theatre some members of the audience are beginning to reach restlessness for their wraps.

Kindling will have its last presentation tonight.

TRUE LIKE BREEDS LIKE

It has been the unfortunate experience of Candidate Hughes to be heckled and annoyed at many places where he speaks, and the other day when the Hughes-Wall Street Butterfly stumperesses visited Chicago they were most impolitely treated by other females of evidently different politics, who jeered and scoffed them unmercifully, the mean things.

The trouble with persons that indulge in such ill-mannered and offensive conduct is that they do not reason. If they did two things would be clear enough to them, the first that no votes are made against the candidate, or side, they are affronting, and the second that their actions are going to be retaliated in kind. No matter, therefore, how grossly discourteous and unladylike was their action, it is not at all surprising that Republican female suffragists organized a demonstration against President Wilson, on the occasion of his visit to Chicago, Thursday. It be true they were discourteously and unchivalrously treated, their banner being torn from them and trampled in the dirt, but they got no more than they provoked. The only thing in the way of condonement is, that with women in politics we are bound to have more or less of the hysterical and there ought to be patience exercised, but her advent is so recent that the male voter hasn't had time and experience sufficient to habituate himself to forbearance.

We do not feel either that the victims of an experience unpleasant to themselves, instead of the president, who did not witness the incident, do not improve their case by whimpering that the hundred or so policemen, who were standing about offered no rescue, to the contrary apparently richly enjoying the rude dilemma into which "the silent protestors" so unexpectedly found themselves. Policemen are human and some have a sense of justice and humor. May be too they have glimmerings of wisdom and it occurred to them that here was a lesson in manners and common decency, which if suffered to run its full and deserved course, might be wholesome to the country at large.

WE WOULD LIKE TO KNOW

Perhaps, we are somewhat obtuse, but be that as it may, we do not get the point in this wrangling before council about a street that is or was to be in a certain addition. Somehow it seems to have started with the discovery that some person, or persons unknown, had built a sewer on some private grounds and then some other person or persons bobbed up with a bill against the city for the construction. The sewer matter was dropped like a hot poker, though what became of the bill for it is a matter in which the public is kept in profound ignorance. May be the controversy over a street, that does not seem to so immediately concern the public, will go the same way, although it is darkly intimated that His Honor, Mayor Kaps, may have something to say on the subject later. Perhaps, he may tell the people where they come in on it.

A CASUAL DISCOVERY

Joseph McGhee, candidate for attorney general, read the speech of Theodore Roosevelt, delivered at Scranton, Pennsylvania, and when he was through he got out his trusty pencil and figured the following data: "I" was used 127 times, "Wilson" 54 and "Hughes" just twice. Sure Teddy dislikes Wilson, but not to be too exact he likes himself two and a half more. His opinion of Hughes is, doubtless, measured also by the number of times he refers to him. That is rather strange, too, because we know how deeply and gratefully Hughes admires him, as he told in that celebrated message he sent him, when Roosevelt made his first speech in his behalf.

Does it occur to those German-Americans who are going to vote against Wilson because he allows munitions to be sold to Germany's enemies, that the men who are making the millions out of the sale of those munitions are all for Hughes? They don't have to go any farther than Portsmouth to learn that.

The Cleveland Plain Dealer, Democratic in national politics, manifests an admirable spirit in advocating for election those candidates for county offices it esteems most fit, regardless of what ticket they are on. Speed the day when all newspapers will find it possible to manifest the same spirit of independence.

AND AN ELECTION PENDING

The report for the week on the iron and steel market was the most cheering yet given out, doubly so in view of the fact that in three weeks a national election will be held.

Outside of its general tone the market was unusually reassuring in the condition that there was an overwhelming preponderance of home business. Buying for all lines for 1917 delivery showed heavy increase, and mills found themselves quite unable to make reservations for uncalculated demands that are likely to arise in the ordinary experience. Railroads showed special activity in searching for shops where their orders for equipment could be supplied with some degree of expedition, and there was an enlarged demand for rails and cars. They find the plants are so full up that no orders for cars will be taken except for steel underframes and wood structures. A better idea of the crowded mills may be gleaned in the situation that orders have been placed on several hundred thousands of rails to be delivered in 1918, these being the earliest orders of the kind ever filed. Plate mills are unable to keep production anywhere near demand and they have refused to accept further business until the contract for the 250,000 tons to be used in the construction of the government ship building plant is let.

Inevitably prices are advancing on the accelerated home demand, but this has no perceptible effect on the volume of inquiries and the business offering.

NEW-YORK-DAY-BY-DAY. O.O. MCINTYRE.

New York, Oct. 21.—In the Pie Zone and along the Cornbeef Hash Meridian the news traveled swiftly as a shadow over an artificial moon, making every one feel cold and clammy, that precisely on the hor a 20 to 25 percent increase in price, not portion—would take effect on the bill of fare of all Childs restaurants.

Pie common went up 50 percent. The reverse of stock market conditions prevailed and the result will be known in history as the Great Pie Panic of 1916. Butter-cakes remained steady at five cents.

All of which means that in the Childs restaurants a cut of pie costs 10 cents instead of five and cornbeef hash 20 cents instead of 15. Coffee with cream is now 10 cents.

Just before the new schedule went into effect a flood of buying orders poured into Childs' Broadway emporiums. Men and women ordered feverishly to lay in supplies of cornbeef hash, packed eggs and Pie common sufficient to last them a whole day.

And in the Three Cent Beaver-ies there are very few dishes left at three cents. They have soared to five cents. In the famous Dirty Spoon Cafe—that is its real name—on the Bowery the two cent dishes are now four cents.

Freddy Block was remarking at the Friars that New Yorkers always answer a question by asking one. The crowd hooted. So they decided to test the idea. "Well," said Block, "the first man who comes in will be tried out and I'll bet a powder that he asks a question."

Along came Sam Harris. "Well, Sam, the Yankees won," said Block.

"Did they?" was the reply. Then the crowd walked down to a shoe store a few doors away.

"Say," said Block, "have you got any fresh artichokes here?"

"What do you think this place is a vegetable store?" chirped the clerk.

Seven years ago Samuel Roth-apfel, the owner of the Rialto, one of the largest movie playhouses in the world, was a beer slinger in a saloon in a city near Pittsburgh. But while he served beer he dreamed—and the Stars, Czechs and Magyars whom he served used to laugh and cap his heads.

And then one day Samuel borrowed $50 and married the cafe owner's daughter. Today he has most of the things he dreamed about. His father-in-law fired him, but undaunted the young man secured an old beer hall and converted it into a moving picture palace. That was the beginning of his career.

He was responsible for the erection of the Strand—the other large movie palace in New York. And he left it to build the Rialto. Success has left him unspoiled. Also he always has a kind word for a waiter—he knows what a hard life it is.

And here is another story of success. The score of the Casino hit "Flora Bella" was written by Milton Schwarzwald. He is a young American boy who was connected with the Chicago office of Leo Feist. He wanted to come to New York and write music—but he didn't get much encouragement so he came anyway.

He was given a trial with the "Flora Bella" score not because it was thought he could do it, but to keep him away from the New York offices. Fourteen of the 19 songs he wrote are reigning successes.

And to put over 14 song hits in a season means a fabulous fortune. If this is his maiden effort it is hard to tell just what he will do next. He is already running Irving Berlin a close second for royalties.

Briar Beaver

"Mother Beaver! Mother Beaver! there is nothing we could possibly do about it. I have something to tell you!" shouted Father Beaver as he ran back to his home. "I've a fine surprise! I've ——" And then he stopped short. For Mother Beaver had company. Some one who looked like a beaver person, but surely couldn't be, for not a single beaver did they know—that is, know to call an acquaintance, in this new Wigglewag country. Father Beaver was puzzled and he went very slowly toward Mother Beaver and the stranger till he should make out who it might be.

But he had not long to wonder. Mother Beaver turned around just then, spied him coming their way, and called out, "Come quickly Father Beaver and see who's come to call on us."

Father Beaver hurried up and when he got close he recognized the caller right away. It was none other than the dignified beaver who sat at the head of the beaver court the night Father Beaver and his family were made members of the Wigglewag society. But what could he be doing here? Was some trouble afoot?

The visiting beaver soon set Father Beaver's mind at rest by introducing himself and explaining his errand. "I am Briar Beaver," he said kindly, "and I've come to see how you are faring in your new home. Do you find everything to your liking? Are you all well and happy? Is there anything I can do for you?"

Now wasn't that kind and thoughtful of Briar Beaver? No wonder Father Beaver was pleased and proud! No wonder he forgot, for the minute, all about his raft and that he remembered only how nice and kind everyone had been. "Indeed

"Is there anything I can do for you?"

"That sounds pleasant," said Briar Beaver, "only didn't I hear something about a surprise?" "To be sure, to be sure you did," exclaimed Father Beaver, "only I was so glad to see you that I forgot for the minute. I want you all to go riding with me down the creek."

"Riding with you!" exclaimed Mother Beaver, "why you have no boat!" "Haven't I?" laughed Father Beaver, "better come and see." And where the raft was tied, he didn't even look to see if the others were following him—he knew they would come! But little he guessed that HE was going to be surprised too!

Y. W. C. A. NOTES

Remember the Musical to be given at the home of Mrs. Alan Jordan on the evening of October 26th, at 8 o'clock. The program is printed in another place in this paper.

The pastors of three of the churches have become interested in the Normal Training class offered by the Association and have arranged to send us two girls from their church to be instructed in play work for children.

This class and its advantages has been presented to all the pastors and we would appreciate it very much if they would take the matter up with their people, choose the young women they wish to send and notify them so they can be on hand next Thursday night. We are anxious to start the class just as soon as possible.

There is still room for one or two more in the dress-making class. Call

Why She Sang a Hymn

A colored preacher in the South tells of his visit to a certain house hold in a town in Georgia, where, quite early one morning, he was awakened by the tones of a contralto voice singing, "Abide With Me." As the preacher lay in bed he meditated upon the piety which the hostess must possess which enabled her to proceed about her task early in the morning singing such a noble hymn.

At breakfast he spoke to her about it, and told her how pleased he was. "Laway!" she replied, "that's do hymn I boils eggs by; three verses for soft and five for hard!"—Harper's Magazine.

"So much the better, sir; the use of tobacco is a poisonous habit. Does he frequent clubs?"

"He has never put his foot in one."

"Allow me to congratulate you. Does he ever come home late?"

"Never. He goes to bed directly after dinner."

"A model young man, sir, a model young man. How old is he?"

"Just six months."

Hedges And Willis Address Enthusiastic G. O. P. Meeting

New Yorker's Speech Sparkles With Wit; Governor Discusses Live Issues In State

Charges of "shameless inefficiency in the state banking department under the James M. Cox administration" and a ringing denial that he opposed the Workmen's Compensation Law were made by Governor Frank B. Willis, in an able address delivered at the big Republican rally held at Distel hall, Seventh and Chillicothe streets Friday evening. Governor Willis, who discussed state affairs, was preceded by Hon. Job E. Hedges, New York, who is considered one of the most brilliant orators and after dinner speakers in the country.

Both the present Democratic administration under President Wilson and the state administration of ex-Governor James M. Cox were attacked by the speakers.

Distel hall was packed with spectators long before the program started. The River City band came early and played several selections. "The Star Spangled Banner" brought the entire assemblage to its feet with a resounding cheer. It was then that Hon. Job E. Hedges, escorted by Chairman Judge George M. Osborn and Hon. Harry W. Miller, stepped to the platform.

After being introduced, Mr. Hedges swayed his audience at will by this wonderful command of oratory. Skeins of wit and pathos made up the framework of his speech, upon which the issues of the national campaign were skillfully woven.

Governor Willis, accompanied by Chairman John F. Eckhart, and Secretary D. Willard Gastin, of the county executive committee, Mayor H. H. Kaps and a delegation of Columbus and Cleveland newspapermen arrived late. Governor Willis and Chairman Eckhart and Secretary D. W. Gastin took positions on the platform.

The speaker's platform was draped in the folds of several large American flags.

"I feel that the executive committee of the Republican party of Scioto county conferred a great honor upon me when they permitted me to preside at this meeting this evening," declared Judge George M. Osborn, chairman. "At this meeting the issues of both the nation and the state are to be presented and the national issues are of particular interest to the people of Ohio and we have gentlemen, peculiar faith in the competence of those who have been selected to discuss them."

The Republican party, organized and constituted in Scioto county, begins the final drive tonight upon the trenches of the enemy, which we hope and believe will terminate in a complete victory on the seventh of November.

"We are not advancing with machine guns and armored tanks" and battleships but with logical and reasonable and fair arguments. "We have this evening Hon. Job E. Hedges, of the Empire State, who is noted for his eloquence and logic; who has come into Ohio to assist in the campaign. Gentlemen, I present Mr. Hedges."

"I live in a section," said Mr. Hedges, as he stepped to the front of the platform, "where it takes courage to be a real Republican all the year around. I live in New York, where we have Tammany Hall and—take it from me—they are not particularly intimate with the Republicans at all."

"You need not have any solicitations for the state of New York. It is going Republican. Mr. Hughes will carry New York and we are going to elect a United States senator in the place of a Democrat."

"In Ohio as I have found it in Missouri, where I have been, it is a matter of vital moment to me as a citizen to see a change in the national administration. I have observed politics for a score of years and I have never seen a campaign visualized like this one. There is less red fire. There is less excitement and by far less demonstration than before. On the face of it it seems that the people are evidently thinking seriously."

Four Years Long Enough, Says Speaker

"It has been argued that there should be a longer term for the presidential office. With this I don't agree. Four years is long enough—for one president at least."

"The president today, individually has more influence by the use of words; more than was contemplated by the men who formed this government. Congress has not dared to form its own opinion without waiting to see what the president has to say."

"Speaking as a lawyer I don't believe that it is fair to the public, when Mr. Wilson comes up for re-election after he has endeavored for four years to subvert the visualized will of congress, to say that he has destroyed something. Simple minded Americans believe that the fathers of this country knew a whole lot of things."

"They knew enough to start it," declared the speaker in a peculiar way, which brought a roar of laughter, "so we are here today. They knew enough to lay out plans that were so attractive that we have 100,000,000 people. Don't you think that it was a pretty good job for a lot of people that never knew anything at any time?"

There are all sorts of platform speakers, the speaker said, and still most of them said about the same thing. Citing as an example of the average, "Spellbinder," he said, that many debates were held on "Is Virtue Better Than Vice?" "And nobody takes the vice end. They say the laws are made for all. Whoever heard of a law that was made for one? When they want some real excitement they say, 'There shall be no special privileges in the contract.' Just like that. Yet you never saw a well ordained Republican or Democrat who saw a special privilege coming his way get out of the way of it. No! No! He just stands and waits until its gets within arm's reach then he throws it to his breast so that it won't hurt his brother man. It is my indirect way of saying that there is a lot of political bunk."

"The Republicans have been in office for quite a while, with one or two little interruptions. Every now and then we are beaten. Four years ago one or two of us were whipped—including myself. I got it. I was running for governor of the state of New York once on the Republican ticket and I know what it means. And a Progressive was running at the same time. The Democrat beat both of us. I beat the Progressive. But we were both pretty well damaged, when it was all over."

Got Mad First, Talked It Over Afterward

"The only difference between the Republican and the Progressive party was that they got mad first and talked it over afterward. If they had talked it over first, they would have never got mad. After it was all over the Progressive smiled. No man smiles and remains a Progressive."

"This is the most important campaign since the foundation of this government—at least since the Civil War. The visible results to America was that it reflected to herself, in the light of the European war—that awful catastrophe, whose lurid flames lights the entire globe. It enabled America to see herself as a great powerful potential nation; no longer non-potential, but a power in the families of the world."

"That is the reason that it is so important that the next president be well balanced, morally and mentally and one who has the courage of an American; one who has the mind, brain and spine."

"I have the advantage, gentlemen, of knowing both Mr. Hughes and Mr. Wilson. It was my fortune, when Mr. Hughes was governor of New York to place him in nomination. I journeyed through the state of New York for a month with him, when he was on his speaking tour. It is the policy of Mr. Hughes to take the testimony and then go to a conclusion. But with Mr. Wilson, it is draw a conclusion then take testimony—if it pleases him. One is a clinic and the other a postmortem."

Says Wilson Thinks But Not For Nation

"Mr. Hughes' mind embraces the whole community, which is the nation. Mr. Wilson thinks, but not of the nation. I have known Mr. Wilson for twenty-five years or more. We both were graduated from the same institution. His habits of mind haven't changed a bit. He started out as a lawyer, but he was embarrassed with the fact that he had to deal with the judges and juries and these judges would insist on regulating decisions, according to law, which precluded the visualization, which appealed to Wilson.

"He was next a professor—where there is only one side to the argument—and he has been a teacher ever since. That is, until he became governor. I don't say that I am poking fun at him."

"The American people like to see the wheels go around before the clock strikes. I believe in community efforts rather than a segregation of talent. Col. Harvey says that Mr. Wilson must believe he was elected president of Humanity and not of the United States. And Col. Harvey has studied him very closely. Wilson has a habit of prescribing for the people."

"Cleanliness is next to Godliness. But when a man hasn't had a bath, it is better to give him the price of it and not talk religion. The test of generosity is not in what you give but what you have left."

GOOD NEWS FOR THE GOOD PEOPLE OF PORTSMOUTH

NERV-WORTH NOW ON SALE AT FISHER & STREICH'S PHARMACY

Read What W. S. Boyd, of Normal, Ky., Gratefully Said of Nerv-Worth

As was stated in these columns Tuesday the marvelously successful new Nerv-Tonic, Nerv-Worth, is now on sale at Fisher & Streich's Pharmacy, and already victims of nervous ills are visiting the store to take a sample dose of the tonic and to talk with the Nerv-Worth demonstrator, Mr. F. H. Lawyer, about the medicine's wonderful merits.

A tremendous factor in all these Nerv-Worth campaigns has been the giving in of Nerv-Worth endorsements by its grateful users.

For example here is a striking neighborhood endorsement of Nerv-Worth. It was given some time ago by W. S. Boyd, of Normal, Ky., near Ashland:

"Nerv-Worth Co.: During the spring and summer of 1915, I was bothered with what the doctors called a sun stroke (or in other words, overheat). One doctor called it vertigo, and I had to have a doctor on an average twice in three weeks. I would take spells, swimming of head, and was run down. Could not sleep after hard day's work. I tried two as good doctors as I could find in Ashland, with only temporary relief. A friend of mine advised me to try Nerv-Worth. Never had any faith in patent medicines, but my friend and my wife persuaded until I went and bought two bottles of Nerv-Worth and I used them both strictly as directed, and anybody in Ashland or Normal could testify to the results. I have never been sick a day since I used it (Nerv-Worth) and I have gained 29 pounds, and feel just fine for a man of my age (48 years) and weigh 190 pounds. Work every day and I give Nerv-Worth credit for my good health today."

left. "Rhetoric is an alibi and in exercising it Wilson lives between hope and regret. I say we have with a perfect right as Republicans and as citizens to examine the records of the administration and see whether it is wanted again."

"The president says he kept us out of war. It is another one of his little pleasantries which he gets off now and then. Who was going to war? Everybody was busy and there was nothing considered worth fighting for," Mr. Hedges continued. "In the first six months of the administration, the great distinguished world-famous citizen, my friend Mr. Bryan, negotiated 31 treaties with other nations of the world, in which the United States contracted that no matter what happened or what was done or by whom, we wouldn't say a word about it for as long as a year. We invited the world to insult us and the other nations weren't scared enough to even make a face. That Eminent Apostle of Peace, as long as he was secretary of state saw to it that there was no fighting and tipped Secretary of the Navy Daniels off not to build any more battleships. # SOLVE THE HIGH COST OF LIVING BAKE YOUR OWN BREAD!

An advertisement that every housewife in Portsmouth Should Read Carefully. A presentation of FLOUR FACTS that no one can successfully deny. And while reading, do not forget that is the best in the world—made right here in Portsmouth, where it has come to be known as the Premier Flour—the housewife's delight, best for bread and unexcelled for pies, cakes and pastries. Always pure, wholesome and of uniform quality—demand it from your grocers—accept no substitute.

How to Save Money on Your Bread Bill

A BARREL OF MAGNOLIA FLOUR MAKES THE FOLLOWING NUMBER OF LOAVES OF BREAD ACCORDING TO THE SIZE OF THE LOAVES IN OUNCES:

Total number of loaves 332, equal to 533,120 ounces. These make:

333 loaves of 16 ounces each at 5 cents, cost housewife $16.65; at 6c, $19.98
355 loaves of 15 ounces each, at 5 cents, cost housewife $17.75; at 6c, $21.30
389 loaves of 14 ounces each, at 5 cents, cost housewife $18.95; at 6c, $22.80
410 loaves of 13 ounces each, at 5 cents, cost housewife $20.50; at 6c, $24.60
444 loaves of 12 ounces each, at 5 cents, cost housewife $22.20; at 6c, $26.64

This figuring the cost of all ingredients at their present high prices, leaves her a big profit at the lowest price she would pay for her bread, when she buys by the single loaf. Surely enough difference to pay her for her time and trouble. A family is rated to use one barrel of flour per annum per person. The average family is five persons, or should be. See what the reduction in the high cost of living would mean in the matter of bread alone.

If she bakes her own bread, it will cost her as follows:

196 pounds flour	$ 8.50
3 1-4 salt	$ .05
6.53 sugar at 7 cents	$ .4571
3.27 lard at 16 cents	$ .5232
4.57 yeast at 25 cents	$ 1.143
Fuel	$ 1.00
Total	$11.6433

G. O. P. SPEECH

"He says that Hughes will put us in the war if he becomes president. He knows different because Hughes naturally looks up and not down at us. People fight up and not down."

"He kept us out of war? Yet he gave us a war tax. I am complained about in New York because I don't stand by the president. God knows, I would if he would stand alone for one minute so I could get there."

In discussing the tariff Mr. Hedges said that the Republican idea of protection of finished products and no duty on raw material had been reversed by President Wilson. He said that President Wilson placed a duty on raw material and allowed the finished product to come in free. He characterized the Democratic tariff as a "perfectly ludy like tariff."

"And he put a war tax on to prove that we were at peace—then we had a real war."

Governor Willis And Party Arrive

At this juncture, Gov. Frank B. Willis and party arrived and were escorted to the platform by Chairman John F. Eckhart and Secretary D. Willard Gustin, of the local Republican executive committee.

Resuming his talk Mr. Hedges said: "I am told and told seriously that because of the president's wisdom in the affairs of a nearby republic that he had demonstrated how he would handle our affairs in the next four years. That means Mexico. I was down there and left $100,000 down there too. It was all I had at the time. Take it from me, they fear neither God, man nor government—and want none of either. And when the president said that we would recognize the civil morality and intelligence he spoke like a child with man's affairs. There are 15,000,000 souls there and not more than 10 percent can read or write and the rest kill. They make more on a raid than by working a year. They are a people who never sleep at night—or let anyone else. Yet we have dared to tell them how to act—then they don't."

Says He Is Not On Terms With It

"They were notified officially that we were only interested in their affairs. They told our people to get out; then the government armed them to kill them while they were making their exit. Then there was another little thing fractured—the Monroe doctrine. This little thing was started by a Democratic Father. Mr. Wilson must be its step-father, for he is not on terms with it."

"Mr. Wilson is relying on the vote of organized labor on the ground of some personal or individual gift. He has forgotten what he said about them before he was elected. He said that organized labor was dangerous and subversive of good government and dangerous to society. I hate to think what he will do to organize labor if he is re-elected. It wouldn't have a chance and that is a technical term too," the speaker continued.

"There never has been a statute put on the books of a state or a nation when the law referred to class legislation that started to give the benefit that it declared it would. Because just as soon as it does remain another class will demand a law and the law hook will look like a crazy quilt. Then the people will rise up and wipe them all off."

"They say that Mr. Wilson is burdened as no man since Abraham Lincoln. I say that it is unfair for this great nation to place that burden upon him again. It is unfair and unjust and he is entitled to a rest and I am in favor of giving it to him."

"My inherent objection to him is that he has destroyed the manhood and independent thinking of the American people. He knows no more about human nature than I do."

"It is amazingly serious what he says this country should do as a neutral. He asks us to observe the laws of a neutral and forbid the people to talk out loud. He said that we had no right to think independently outside of our own waters."

"I have known men who have preached prohibition who wouldn't dare to light a match. I, for one, am tired of the twaddle that is coming out of Washington."

"I object to Woodrow Wilson because of his treatment of the American people. He reverses the normal processes of government. The speaker said that he was acquainted with Senator Alton Pomeroy. 'I dare Mr. Pomeroy,' Mr. Hedges continued, 'to say on any public platform what his private opinion is of the political judgment of the president of the United States.'

"I was beaten for governor of New York. But they impeached the man that beat me. So I have some consolation."

In concluding, Mr. Hedges told of a visit back to his Alma Mater—Princeton university; when he desired to get away from the cares of life and the first thing he heard on leaving the train was a set of chimes playing 'My Country, 'Tis of Thee.' Instead of the popular airs. This, he said, impressed him seriously with the times."

Gov. Willis Introduced

Introduced by Judge Osborn as "big physically, mentally and morally," Governor Frank B. Willis apologized for the condition of his voice, adding that he had delivered twelve addresses Friday before coming to Portsmouth and ten of these were out doors.

"I realize," said Governor Willis, after he was given a big ovation, "that it is difficult to successfully discuss anything after Job Hedges makes a speech. I will say to him though that if he cannot be elected governor of New York and after I get through and one or two more young fellows I know get a chance; he can come to Ohio and we'll elect him governor of Ohio."

"My opponent said, before the contest was on, that I would be found discussing national topics alone and saying nothing about a comparison of my administration and that of my predecessor. I note, however, that my opponent spoke for one hour and forty five minutes, according to a newspaper account, in Cincinnati and he devoted eleven minutes to discussing state topics.

"My opponent said, in the beginning, that I would be found hiding under the coat tail of the presidential candidate. I wish to say in all earnestness and solemnity that I will continue to do all in my power to help extend true Americanism but I will fight on the state issues. It is to be a man's fight and no kid glove affair either."

"I have here a copy of a newspaper. This paper contains a report of a meeting, which the Democratic brethren held somewhere, Hon. Will P. Haynes, Democratic nominee for state senator, spoke to a small but enthusiastic crowd. He attacked the extravagance of the present state administration."

"Now to start out, if Mr. Haynes—that is his name isn't it? Senator Tremper—is correctly reported, he sought to bring about a comparison between the present and preceding administrations and that is exactly what I want."

Wants Haynes To Answer

"When Mr. Haynes tells of the economy of the preceding administration, I would like for him to tell—Senator Tremper, I would like for him to tell—what brand of procedure they used, which practically increased the expenses $5,000,000 a year. Is that the kind of economy he favors? That is a cold hard fact."

"In the last year the present administration, my predecessor says, increased the expenses more than $2,000,000. Whereas, the first year of my administration we not only stopped the upward trend but absolutely reduced the expenses by one-third of a million. Our predecessors say that we have increased it more than $2,000,000 when in fact, we have decreased it $350,000."

"I hope now that Mr. Haynes will say what brand he prefers now and hope that he will be considerate enough to give a list of salaries reduced during the preceding administration and the places where they abolished offices."

"The state highway department even with the most cursory examination, has been able to cut down the office expense about $5,000 a month or $60,000 a year. Here we found enough sinners. Senator Tremper knows how we saved $200,000 in the first year in this department, far he was instrumental in bringing it about. I hope Mr. Haynes is prepared to furnish a list of the salaries reduced under the former administration and a list of the places his Patron Saints abolished. The fact is, they did not reduce a single salary. The fact is they did not abolish a place."

"It is a fact that the former administration created many places to take care of political friends. And it can be said they were all under civil service. That is there was less service, for the civil service bill was in effect ten months before it passed."

"They held non-competitive examinations. Three thousand fellows were taken care of for political reasons. At Columbus, here they were all lined up and with trembling knees. They had gotten together several from Hopkinton county."

"In one of the departments which has to do with the protection of human lives and the inspection of railroad equipment, there was appointed a father. Now I haven't a quarrel with the barbers. I get most of my information from them, while I am being shaved. I never supposed that cutting hair, or curling a mustache or giving a shave, qualified a man to inspect railway equipment."

"And that is not all. At the head of the state building department, the department which inspects this charming structure and says whether it is safe or not, there was appointed a tailor. I have no quarrel with the tailors but is one who can fabricate a coat or construct an overcoat qualified as an architect and a mechanical engineer?"

"The present administration got hold of the public utility commission, gentlemen, and the first thing I wish to say I did was to issue instructions that every inspector in the department, having to do with railroad equipment inspection, should have practical railroad experience."

"Oh, yes, I was going to tell you about the non-competitive examinations. Well, about three thousand fellows and all drawing salaries were lined up for the non-competitive examination. These trembling applicants stood before that august board until summoned. And they were asked in dignified voice, 'Sir, what is your name?' Alreedy and timidly the trembling applicant replies 'John Smith,' or something else. Then 'Sir, where do you live?' 'Down at Pumpkinville, Hopkinton township.' 'Sir, how old are you?' 'I am 38 years old. Then this board retires for grave deliberation and on coming out, announce, 'Sir, you have passed with a grade of 92 percent.'

"This was the way the force was perpetuated and the party has lost $230,000 in salaries. I hope Mr. Haynes is good enough to make a list of the salaries reduced and the places that were abolished. I have already told you of the reduction made. Senator Tremper was most active in getting this through. I have told you that since we took charge that we have decreased the expenses by $250,000. Senator Tremper helped do that. Is Mr. Haynes sure to do so well?"

"Mr. Haynes says that we must either economize or repeal the Smith One Percent Law. He would emascuate the Smith law. We propose to maintain the tax law of Ohio and will maintain it. Will Uphold The Compensation Law

"Then the Workmen's Compensation Law, he says that this piece of legislation was in jeopardy if I should be re-elected. Senator Tremper knows that there was not a 'Y' crossed nor an 'I' dotted in the Workmen's Compensation Law, and it is to be repealed exactly as it was when I went into office. Not a thing changed."

"That was said before I was elected. It will be irrevocably maintained unimpaired throughout my administration. Now Mr. Haynes concludes by making a statement that I am opposed to the Workmen's Compensation law. I want to say that whoever said it or wherever it was said that it is nothing more than a campaign lie."

An article purported to be an epitome of a speech delivered by William Green, in which he was accused of being friendly to the liability insurance companies was read in part by Governor Willis.

"I didn't hold any conference with the agents of the liability insurance companies as my opponent did at New Philadelphia. I did not hold a conference with the representatives of the liability insurance companies at Washington, D. C., as my opponent did. Nor did I presume to meet them as he did at his home on East Broad street, Columbus, when section 22 of the Workmen's Compensation law was added which permitted liability insurance companies to write insurance in Ohio."

"I had no dealings with the agents of the liability insurance companies."

"I do say, upon a reliable report, that those gentlemen had a lively interest in the campaign of 1912, who were at this interesting meeting held at New Philadelphia, little later."

"I have charged my opponent twenty times that he recommended section 22, which gives the liability insurance companies the right to write in Ohio. You don't see it denied in any of the accounts of his speeches do you?"

"The Workmen's Compensation law had its inception in the administration preceding but Governor Harmon suggested writing the statute and a Republican gen-

DRINK TO YOUR HEALTH

Kentucky Carlsbad Water

There is more to the caption of this little article than, at a glance would appear.

If one would stop and consider what the drinking of PURE WATER means and then add to this the wonderful medicinal properties contained in Kentucky Carlsbad Water, one would get the full meaning of "Drink to Your Health."

This "WONDER WATER" comes from the earth at a depth of over 1,700 feet, is thoroughly filtered, which removes any possible foreign matter, but does not remove any of its health giving properties, and is put up in half-gallon bottles (six to a case) that have been thoroughly washed and cleansed and then sterilized with live steam.

To each case, as above described, is added one smaller bottle of the Natural Mineral Water, that has been fortified for use in cases of constipation or when the bowels need flushing.

Unless you are familiar with Kentucky Carlsbad Water you are, no doubt, wondering what the wonderful curative properties contained in this water are and what we claim for them.

If you will send for our free booklet, which gives the analysis of Kentucky Carlsbad Water, and submit same to your physician, he will tell you that by using the water in liberal quantities it will correct Uric Acid (the cause of most rheumatism, Albumen (the symptoms of Diabetes), and will give quick relief in cases of Stomach Trouble.

We have here at Dry Ridge a thoroughly modern sanatorium and hotel, where patients receive prompt and permanent relief from all the above troubles.

Our rates are low and we would like to correspond with you in reference to your particular trouble. Write for booklet.

eral assembly passed it. Judge Wallace Yaple drafted it, but in the bill there was no provision for competitive features until my opponent returned from the conference and he remembered his pledge and recommended it in a message to the general assembly. My opponent had it written into the law.

"Mr. Haynes says that the Workmen's Compensation Act is in jeopardy if I am re-elected and yet he has never mentioned the Democratic candidate for attorney general, Mr. McGhee, in saying that it is unconstitutional and is now threatening a suit to get judicial interpretation."

"The Democratic party promised to introduce a federal Workmen's Compensation Act but after four years, nothing has been done. They say that in the state it is to be declared unconstitutional."

"We have had control of the administration for 21 months and in that time we have paid out to workmen for injuries received and their beneficiaries, over $4,700,000 and in the two years in which my opponent was in office, $1,700,000 was paid out. In 21 months during the present administration we paid out over $3,000,000 more than the preceding administration. In two years they collected $3,800,000 and in 21 months we collected $6,800,000 and we have increased the reserve fund by $4,000,000."

"Passed Bills For Workmen

"My opponent, while governor, vetoed a bill which would afford protection to the motormen of the interurban cars, for some reason unknown. We passed the bill. We passed the caboose bill. Another bill passed by us was the Loan Shark bill. Interest rates were charged the workmen from 25 percent to 150 percent before we passed it."

"One of the first things that I called attention to, after the inauguration, was a plan to secure employment for the thousands of honest capable men in Ohio who were out of a job. I hope before you cast your ballot that you think of two years ago."

"I happen to know that thousands and thousands were out of work, walking the streets. In Columbus alone there were 10,000 idle men. In Cleveland, I understand that there were over 40,000. Mills were idle, factories were closed and the men were given no opportunity to work."

"We established employment agencies so that men could be assisted in finding work, when the great war orders began to roll in and the panic which hung over the country like a pall began to break and restored hope, where gaunt famine stalked like a specter. Grim visored, blood stained War had held out a hand and led fading Democracy over a hard way."

"After the war what? Give us an old fashioned William McKinley tariff."

"In the state highway department we stopped the expenditure of $20,000 a year for the special political magazine. The purpose of the money appropriated for the highway department is rather for the highways than for a magazine."

WORKING CAPITAL

Every business man and farmer needs to have ample "working capital."

This business is hampered in a hundred ways if he is cramped for ready money.

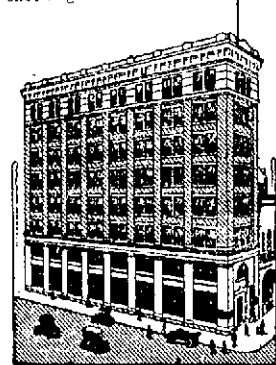

The practical way to meet this need is to carry a checking account here, and build up a good balance which will enable you to meet all ordinary needs.

This plan also establishes a credit standing which helps greatly when you need to borrow extra money to meet some unusual demand.

Do not these suggestions apply to YOU? Then why not open a checking account with us at once?

Are Building Good Roads

"My predecessor built 140 miles of highway while the present administration built 359 miles. This year we will build 500 miles. I know my opponent says that we spent $900,000 more but he built 140 miles and we are building 500 miles. I believe in playing the game fair and with all of the cards on the table. I will spend every dollar in the state highway department fund for highways. Of course, I could have let it accumulate and pile up so that I could look back and say when up for re-election 'Look what I have saved.' But I don't do it. What we want is more highways."

"Then in the banking department we cleaned out a nest of accumulation. Here we found a most amusing situation for any state to be in. Here I want to say that I have been threatened with a law suit, a damage suit but I am going to say it. I say that this department was the most inefficient, most shameful, most extravagant of any department."

"Failed banks which should have been good and sound institutions, gave up their money to furnish some little squirt a job as liquidating agent."

"You will remember—Senator Tremper knows—when George McKenna testified. He was a horse reporter on my opponent's paper. Listen, McKenna was told in substance that 'there is a failed bank at Osborn or there is to be. Get ready to have the job as liquidating agent.'

"He accepted the invitation and drew a salary of $280 a month for eighteen months and then admitted that he did not know a thing about the duties of a liquidating agent. Some of the people who were there testified that he even knew less than he said he knew."

The governor said that there was a bank in Southern Ohio, whose depositors put up the money to purchase pictures and picture frames to be installed in the offices of the banking department. These pictures consisted of "a Democratic candidate from the northwestern part of Ohio for senator, a picture of my opponent and a picture of the superintendent of the banking department."

"In the first year we reduced the expenses $3400, by kicking $4 fellows out; each of whom drew $1000."

The author of the Warnes law, which was repealed, the governor said, was given a petition as liquidating agent of a bank at $3600 a year; he drew a salary of $1,000 from the general assembly as a member, and he was given $1200 a year as spotter in the automobile department."

The Head of Every Family

Is paying for a home. If he is living in a rented house, he is paying for his landlord's house, and when he has it paid for, it still belongs to the landlord, and he starts right in paying for it a second time.

When he adopts the ROYAL DEFINITE CONTRACT LOAN plan and has a home paid for, he owns the house and can quit paying or go on saving his money for some other plan to benefit himself and family.

INTEREST RATE IS REASONABLE

Some people say "I would buy a home but I have not enough to pay cash and the interest is so much." They let the interest scare them. The interest rate is six and seventy-six one-hundredths per cent. The renter pays this to his landlord and a profit besides.

SAVE THIS PROFIT FOR YOURSELF

Why, some people are buying houses through the Royal and letting the renter pay for them. They bring the rent to pay the payments on the loan.

Are you going to keep on buying the landlord's house or are you going to pay for a home of your own.

"Home of Character" No. 207

An Artistic Design—By John Henry Newson

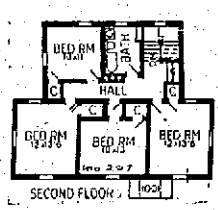

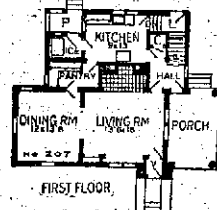

This is a most attractive design of a small house for a wide lot. The exterior is carried out in wide siding or large shingles and the roof can be covered with either shingles or slate. If climatic conditions permit, the exterior would look best in large shingles stained gray with white trim and the roof in gray or green shingles.

The living room is large with an attractive inglenook and is connected with the dining room by a wide eared opening. A serving pantry connects the kitchen and dining room, and the refrigerator is placed in a separate cold room. One chimney carries the furnace, fireplace and kitchen flues, which is quite a saving in expense. As the hall is separated from the living room, no rear stairs are necessary. The second floor contains four bedrooms. The bathroom is conveniently located in reference to all of the bedrooms and the first floor.

This house 38x28 feet could be built under ordinary conditions for about $4500 but this cost would depend on the elaboration of detail as well as local prices.

Any Times reader who desires further information concerning No. 207 should address "John Henry Newson, Home of Character Dept., The Times." There will be no charge for Mr. Newson's answers.

The Frost Has Sent The Leaves Tumbling The Days Are Cool--The Nights Chilly--Winter Is Coming!

While some few people like the Winter season, others shudder to think of what it has in store for them!

One thing sure, and that is there will be less daylight than in Summer—the days are short, the nights are long.

Hence the light question should receive due consideration at this time of the year—preparedness is the forword!

From a personal standpoint we want to say that one of the chief questions that should be uppermost in your mind is regarding light—light for the home, light for the office, light for the factory. Solve the problem quickly and correctly by installing electric service.

Electric Service is the finest, the best, safest and most economical—no one can gainsay that, when comfort and convenience are taken into consideration.

Electricity requires no fussing or scratching around—it is always on the job, instantaneous and economical. No "fooling around" to get it ready for action. Electricity is the healthiest light on earth. It does not draw dirt—one big point in its favor. Then there is no flicker—it radiates with uniformity and is as near like sunlight as human ingenuity can devise.

You deserve the best in your home. No home is complete—it is of a truth, sadly deficient in its best and most necessary appointment when it lacks electric service.

If you own a home, you owe it to your good wife to give her what she deserves and desires—electric service, and you are under no less obligation to her if you rent a home.

Yours to serve,

Gus Hoemer Is New Secretary Of Geeks

Gus H. Hoemer was elected secretary of the Geeks Friday night to fill out the unexpired term of Fred W. Baesman, whose new position with the Whitaker-Glessner Company takes him out of the city quite frequently.

The social session which followed the business meeting was another of those happy affairs for which the Geeks are growing famous. Mr. Baesman gave an interesting recital of his maiden visit just made to Gotham's Great White Way, Otto Lauffer, St. Straus and others entertained with some clever stories and Dr.

Jos. H. Gill rendered some very pleasing vocal selections.

RECTOR PLEADS CAUSE OF ARMENIA

Rector Powell will plead the cause of the persecuted Syrian and Armenian Christians at the morning service at All Saints' church tomorrow, when the parish will obey the Presidential Proclamation issued by out parallel in history. Men, women, and children alike, have been the victims of unspeakable outrages. Our duty towards these suffering brethren of the Christian faith is plain. After the deduction of the average amount for church expenses, the collections at both services will be devoted to this cause.

At the evening service the rector will preach on "Judgment Beginning at the House of God." You are urged to attend both services.

Automobile Day At Fourth Street M. E.

Sunday will be automobile day at the Fourth Street M. E. church. Letters have been sent out to all members or persons attending the church who own automobiles. It is expected to have 25 automobiles lined up in front of the church both the morning and evening services. "Make your auto get the church going habit."

Rev. George Kaletsch, of Dore, O. will preach at both services. Rev. Kaletsch will deliver a sermon in German in the morning. He is superintendent of the Orphan's home at Berea and in the evening will tell of the work at the institution.

Keep Eyes On Man Handling Ball

By JOSEPH HAVENSTOCK.
Linebackers on offense should crouch, awaiting the position of a sprinter waiting the gun. The only difference is that the linebacker should put only one hand on the ground, as a balance.
Keep the knees off the ground and dig the toes in, so as to start the body forward with all possible force. The instant the ball is passed charges forward with all the steam you've got.
It is up to the linebacker to create openings for the backfield men and there are two ways of sending a man through the forward ball.

One is to batter a hole before him and let him slip through; the other is to put him through a quick opening.
My advice to players assigned to the forward line on defense is to watch the man behind the line.
Assume a position that will make it easy to start in any direction. Brace the feet well and keep the arms free for action.
Keep your eyes on the man handling the ball, rather than the man playing the ball. Play high enough so that you can see what is going on behind the opposing line. You have a good chance then to see which way the play is coming.

In tackling, make up your mind where to meet the runner and then nail him and nail him hard.
Tackle around the knees. It is the surest and easiest way. A runner thus tackled is helpless and can't drag you along like he might if you nailed him around the neck.
If you get your man at the knees he can go only the length of his body after you hit him.

Claims Railroad Heads Have The Laboring Class Where They Want It

New York, Oct. 21.—An explanation of the action of presidents of great railroad systems, who have recently declared their support of President Woodrow Wilson, was suggested here last night by Henry J. Allen, of Kansas, in a speech on the Adamson law. "The more the railroad trainmen study this bill," said Mr. Allen, "the more they will dislike it, the more the railroad presidents contemplate it, the greater their satisfaction with it. Perhaps you have been surprised to note that the heads of certain great railroads have recently made public letters in which they urge the re-election of President Wilson. I am not surprised. Under the provision of the Adamson law the capitalist is no longer menaced by railroad unions, for congress becomes the source of settlement and they can deal more easily with organized politics than with organized labor."

"The administration has handed the sword to labor to kill itself," continued Mr. Allen. "Why are Mr. Lovett, chairman of the Union Pacific and E. D. Underwood, president of the Erie company so enthusiastic for Wilson? 'Where is the nigger in the woodpile?' 'Is labor to be the goat?' 'Was this bill a gun loaded by labor or a gun loaded for labor?' 'This wage increase did not come out of Wilson's pocket or out of the pocket of the administration. There is no eight hour day with ten hour pay for the railway postal clerks or other postal employees. No, that raise would show in the Wilson administration appropriation bill.'

"Labor is again the football of politics. How often have its sage counselors warned it away from entangling political alliances? One proud boast of labor, that its vote could neither be bought nor delivered has endured until now only to be sold. The party is soliciting this vote with a rainbow just before election."

PUT STOMACH IN ORDER AND STOP GAS INDIGESTION

"Pape's Diapiesin" Regulates Disordered Stomachs in Five Minutes

No More Dyspepsia, Sourness, Heartburn, Pain, Belching, or Acidity

Nothing will remain undigested or sour on your stomach if you will take a little Diapiesin occasionally. This powerful digestive and antacid, though as harmless and pleasant as candy, will digest and prepare for assimilation into the blood and all the food you can eat.

Eat what your stomach craves without the slightest fear of indigestion or that you will be bothered with acidity or sour risings, belching, gas on stomach, heartburn, headaches from stomach, nausea, bad breath, water brash or a feeling like you had swallowed a lump of lead, or other disagreeable miseries. Should you be suffering now from any stomach disorder you can get relief within five minutes.

If you will get from your pharmacist a 50-cent case of Pape's Diapiesin you could all ways go to the table with a hearty appetite, and your meals would taste good, because you would know there would be no indigestion or sleepless nights or headache or stomach misery all the next day; and, besides, you would not need laxatives or liver pills to keep your stomach and bowels clean and fresh.

Pape's Diapiesin can be obtained from your druggist, and contains more than sufficient to thoroughly overcome the worst case of indigestion or dyspepsia. There is nothing better for gas on the stomach or sour odors from the stomach or to cure a stomach headache.

You couldn't keep a bandier or more useful article in the house.

HUGHES vs. WILSON

FOR LABOR

AGAINST LABOR

IT IS TIME TO THINK!

HUGHES

Mr. Hughes' position on labor, taken from Legislative Labor News of October 10, 1910:

GOV. HUGHES, GREATEST FRIEND OF LABOR
The Legislative Labor News, of New York, October 10, 1910, had the following:

"Now that Governor Hughes has retired from politics and ascended to a place on the highest judicial tribunal in the world, the fact can be acknowledged without hurting anybody's political corns, that he was the greatest friend of labor laws that ever occupied the governor's chair at Albany. During his two terms he has signed 56 labor laws, including among them the best labor laws ever enacted in this or any other state. He also urged the enactment of labor laws in his message to the legislature, even going so far as to place the demand for a labor law in one of his messages to an extra session of the legislature.

"Only 182 labor laws have been enacted in this state since its erection in 1777—in 133 years. One-third of these, exceeding in quality all of the others, has been enacted and signed during Governor Hughes' term of three years and nine months.

"With such a record of approval and suggestion of progressive legislation in the interest of humanity to his credit, it is easy to believe that human rights will have a steadfast and sympathetic upholder in the justice of the Supreme Court of the United States."

WILSON

President Wilson's position on labor when an election was not at hand:

AGAINST THE UNION SHOP

President Wilson's Position on Labor, as Reported in Collier's Weekly:

(Extract from a Baccalaureate Sermon of June 13, 1909, by Prof. Woodrow Wilson).

You know what the usual standard of the employee is in our day. It is to give as little as he may for his wages. Labor is standardized by the trade union, and this is the standard to which it is meant to conform. No one is suffered to do more than the average workman can do. In some trades and handicrafts no one is suffered to do more than the least skillful of his fellows can do within the hours allotted to a day's labor, and no one can work out of hours at all or volunteer anything beyond the minimum.

I need not point out how economically disastrous such a regulation of labor is. The labor of America is rapidly becoming unprofitable under its present regulation by those who have determined to reduce it to a minimum. Our economic supremacy may be lost, because the country grows more and more full of unprofitable servants.

Extract from a letter of Woodrow Wilson dated January 12, 1909, in reply to an invitation to speak at a banquet of anti-strike and anti-boycott advocates:

"I am a fierce partisan of the open shop and everything that makes for individual liberty, and I should like to contribute anything that might be possible for me to contribute to the clarification of thinking and the formation of right purposes in matters of this kind."

At a dinner in the Waldorf-Astoria on March 18, 1907, Dr. Woodrow Wilson spoke as follows:

"We speak too exclusively of the capitalistic class. There is another as formidable an enemy to equality and freedom of opportunity as it is, and that is the class formed by the labor organizations and leaders of the country."

We reprint them here because they have an important bearing on the questions whether the Democratic administration, in what it did during the last week in August, was actuated by sincerity of a life-long conviction.

Members of All Saints' Brotherhood are taking great interest in the lectures on the history of the Christian church which are being delivered each Sunday morning by the rector.

These expressions are used for the most part by those who have not the slightest conception of their meaning, and are unaware of the fact that they are utterly without authority, and used only in the sense in which one might speak of a black, white or yellow church.

TROOPS AND MEXICANS CLASH

GERMANS GAIN ON THREE FRONTS

FIGHT LASTED 45 MINUTES

San Antonio, Tex., Oct. 21.—American troops and Mexicans clashed near San Jose in the Big Bend country Thursday afternoon, according to a report received by General Funston last night from Colonel Joseph Gaston, commander of the district. The fight lasted 45 minutes. No losses were suffered by the Americans and information is lacking regarding loss among the Mexicans.

Colonel Gaston's report said that a band of about thirty Mexicans opened fire on a detachment composed of twenty-three men of the Sixth cavalry and national guard cavalry squadron engaged in patrol duty between Presidio and Ruidosa. Lieutenant Cudington, of the Texas squadron commanding the troops, ordered his men to return the fire. A vigorous exchange of shots continued for a period of 45 minutes, the Americans and Mexicans firing in skirmish formation from covered positions on either side of the Rio Grande. Information from Colonel Gaston did not indicate that the United States troops crossed in pursuit of the Mexicans. After the fight Lieutenant Cudington returned to Ruidosa with his command. Whether the Mexicans were de facto government troops or members of a bandit band was not known by General Funston.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 21.—General Funston, reporting last night on the exchange of shots across the border at San Jose, said that late reports reaching him indicated the American troops were fired upon "by drunken Mexicans."

RAILROADS FACING A SHORTAGE OF CARS

New York, Oct. 21.—Railroads of the United States are suffering from the greatest shortage of cars ever experienced at this time of the year, according to figures made public here. On September 30 there was a net shortage of 61,030 cars. This compares with a surplus of 1,141 cars on October 1, 1914, and a net shortage of 78,299 on the corresponding date last year. The greatest shortage is in box cars, totalling 33,016 while coal and gondola cars are lacking to the extent of 19,872. The greatest shortage of box cars is in the granger states while the lack of coal and gondola cars is felt most severely in the central and eastern sections. Railway men say the high point of the shortage will be reached some time next month and that mild weather would tend to minimize the difficulty.

SAIL FOR THE FRONT FOR RED CROSS JOBS

New York, Oct. 21.—Thirteen volunteer ambulance drivers and two orderlies leave here on the steamer La Fayette and St. Paul companies with a surplus of 1,141 cars on October 1, 1914, and a net shortage of 78,299 on the corresponding date last year. The greatest shortage is in box cars, totalling 33,016 while coal and gondola cars are lacking to the extent of 19,872. The greatest shortage of box cars is in the granger states while the lack of coal and gondola cars is felt most severely in the central and eastern sections. Railway men say the high point of the shortage will be reached some time next month and that mild weather would tend to minimize the difficulty.

LUMBER MILLS ARE CLOSED

Charleston, W. Va., Oct. 21.—Lumber mills at Baskin, La., of the West Virginia Lumber Company will be closed indefinitely by January 2, according to an announcement made today. The company says it has plenty of orders, but shortage of freight cars prevents shipments with any regularity. Several big Louisiana mills have already quit operations for this reason.

The latest telephone wires in Portsmouth are those leading to the TIMES WANT AD department.

"RELIEF DAYS" FOR ARMENIANS

New York, Oct. 21.—Subscriptions and collections will be taken throughout the United States today and tomorrow for the relief of the destitute and starving Armenians and Syrian subjects of the Turkish empire in accordance with a proclamation issued by President Wilson.

An appeal has been issued to the 17,000,000 Sunday school children of America to contribute. The committee in charge says: "There were 2,000,000 Armenians when the war began. Three quarters of a million have perished. A quarter of a million are refugees in other countries, especially in Russia. One million remain who must be fed and clothed and put up on their feet again. Christian America must do it. Most of the remaining Armenians are utterly destitute, emaciated and starving. The situation of the Syrians is similar to that of the Armenians."

ONE KILLED, 4 HURT IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Columbus, Oct. 21.—One man was killed and four other people were more or less seriously injured early this morning when the machine in which they were riding skidded, turned completely around and over on East Broad street near the Columbus Country club. The dead man is R. L. Compton, aged 40, of Newark, whose neck was broken when he was pinned beneath the car. Other occupants of the machine were Mrs. Compton, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Hulshizer and their daughter. One of Mrs. Hulshizer's ankles is broken and she may be hurt internally. Her daughter sustained bruises about the chest, but her condition is not thought to be serious. Mrs. Compton was also injured, but to what extent is not yet known. Mr. Hulshizer, the only one of the party not injured, was driving the car. All the people are from Newark and were on their way to Oxford, Ohio, to spend the week end.

The body of Mr. Compton was brought here and the other occupants of the machine were taken to Grant hospital.

FARMERS DAY AT SHADOW LAWN

Long Branch, N. J., Oct. 21.—This is "Farmers' Day" at Shadow Lawn. President Wilson, who returned last night from Chicago, will speak this afternoon before a delegation of farmers from New Jersey and nearby states. The President planned to devote himself principally to telling what the administration has done for the farmers.

The president's next trip away from Long Branch will take him to Cincinnati next Thursday. He will return here in time for the celebration of "Woodrow Wilson Day" next Saturday.

FIVE DROWN

Detroit, Mich., Oct. 21.—Five of the crew of ten men are reported drowned with the sinking of the tug Shaun Rhue, owned by the Dunbar and Sullivan Dredging company of Detroit, off Kingsville, Ontario, forty miles from Detroit, during a storm early this morning.

Paris, Oct. 21.—Raphael Collin, artist, is dead. He was 66 years of age, an officer of the legion of honor and a member of the Academie des Beaux Arts.

TO ASK A HUGE WAR CREDIT

Amsterdam, Oct. 21.—(Via London)—Advices received here from Berlin are to the effect that a bill will be presented in the Reichstag Saturday asking for a new war credit of twelve billion marks.

COAL FAMINE IN PITTSBURGH DISTRICT

Pittsburgh, Oct. 21.—Railroads and mills in the Pittsburgh district are facing a coal famine and it was stated here today that for the first time in years an agent had been sent to Chicago in the hope of buying coal. Prices also are advancing but consumers say they would be willing to pay it if they could get coal. The shortage is laid to the extraordinary demand and to the car shortage which has become acute.

HUGE DRY DOCK IS OPENED

Washington, Oct. 21.—Panama Canal authorities here just completed and opened to public use a vast dry dock at Balboa, on the Pacific end of the waterway, which is expected to be of the greatest value as a naval asset. The need of the navy for large docks, already very pronounced, promises to become even greater with the completion of the monster superdreadnoughts and the extremely long battle cruisers which have just been planned and are about to be constructed.

The new dry dock, known as Number One, is 1,000 feet long, 110 feet wide, with a depth of 35 feet of water over the blocks at mean tide. Consequently, it can accommodate the largest naval vessel in the world now built or projected.

FRANCE, GALICIA AND RUMANIA SEATSOFTVICTORIES FOR KAISERMEN

London, Oct. 21.—In France, in Galicia and in the Dobrudja region of Rumania, the armies of the central powers have successfully taken the offensive against their opponents. They also are holding the entire allies in check in northern Macedonia and are continuing the fighting on the Transylvanian-Rumanian frontier.

Crown Prince Rupprecht, of Bavaria, assuming the initiative on the Somme front in France, has, according to the Berlin war office, recaptured the greater part of the positions won from the Germans October 18 between Eaucourt, L'Abbaye and Le Barque toward Beaumont. The Germans also have successfully withstood British attacks near Courcellette and Le Sars and on the Pozieres-Bapaume road. Paris reports only artillery activity on the Somme front, but the British chronicle the repulse, with heavy casualties, of a German attack in the Thiepval region.

On the eastern front the Teutonic forces have stormed Russian positions on the left bank of Narvayka river southwest of Lemberg and held the conquered ground against counterattacks. Fourteen officers and 2,050 men and 11 machine guns were taken here by Prince Leopold's troops. In Volynia the fighting continues with varying results, both the Austro-Germans and the Russians claiming repulses of attacks on various sectors. To the north of Kurland a stubborn battle is being waged, with no decision having yet been reached.

Field Marshal Von Mackensen again has resumed his drive toward the Constantza-Bucharest railroad in Dobrudja. While Berlin reports fighting there as "livelier", Bucharest admits that the Rumanians' left wing along the Black Sea coast has been thrown back.

Petrograd reports that the Teutonic attacks were repulsed with heavy losses and that the battle continues.

The Rumanian armies are fighting hard to drive the troops of the central powers back through the frontier passes into Transylvania. Bucharest reports the beginning of an offensive in the Oertze valley northwest of Kronstadt and the taking of Mount Surul, opposite Rothenthurm Pass. Attacks in the Bran defile and Traules and Alt valleys were repulsed by the Rumanians.

While Paris says the Serbians have captured the town of Mlay-solo north of Brod in the region marked by the bend of the Cerna in southern Serbia, Berlin declares the offensive there has come to a halt before the strong forces of the central powers.

Violent fighting continues on Monte Pasubio, in the Trentino region, with Rome and Vienna both claiming slight successes.

Both Claim Success

Sofia, Oct. 21. (Via London, Oct. 21).—The repulse of all Serbian attacks in the Cerna bend is claimed in the official statement issued by the war office today.

Paris, Oct. 21.—The official account of operations on the Macedonian front issued here today says that the Serbian forces which crossed the Cerna river, thrusting back the Bulgarians and capturing several villages, are continuing the offensive movement and have made further progress.

TRUE LIKE BREEDS LIKE

It has been the unfortunate experience of Candidate Hughes to be heckled and annoyed at many places where he speaks, and the other day when the Hughes-Wall Street Butterfly stumpers visited Chicago they were most impolitely treated by other females of evidently different politics, who jeered and scoffed them unmercifully, the mean things.

The trouble with persons that indulge in such ill-mannered and offensive conduct is that they do not reason. If they did two things would be clear enough to them, the first that no votes are made against the candidate, or side, they are affronting, and the second that their actions are going to be retaliated in kind. No matter, therefore, how grossly discourteous and unladylike was their action, it is not at all surprising that Republican female stumpers organized a demonstration against President Wilson, on the occasion of his visit to Chicago, Thursday. It is true they were discourteously and unchivalrously treated, their banners being torn from them and trampled in the dirt, but they got no more than they provoked. The only thing in the way of condonation is, that with women in politics we are bound to have more or less of the hysterical and they ought to be patience exercised, but her advent is so recent that the male voter hasn't had time and experience sufficient to habituate himself to forbearance.

We do not feel either that the victims of an experience unpleasant to themselves, instead of the president, who did not witness the incident, do not improve their case by whimpering that the hundred or so policemen, who were standing about offered no rescue, to the contrary apparently richly enjoying the rude dilemma into which "the silent protestors" so unexpectedly found themselves. Policemen are human and some have a sense of justice and humor. May be too they have glimmers of wisdom and it occurred to them that here was a lesson in manners and common decency, which if suffered to run its full and deserved course, might be wholesome to the country at large.

WE WOULD LIKE TO KNOW

Perhaps, we are somewhat obtuse, but be that as it may, we do not get the point in this wrangling before council about a street that is or was to be in a certain addition. Somehow it seems to have started with the discovery that some person, or persons unknown, had built a sewer on some private grounds and then some other person or persons bobbed up with a bill against the city for the construction. The sewer matter was dropped like a hot poker, though what became of the bill for it is a matter in which the public is kept in profound ignorance. May be the controversy over a street, that does not seem to so immediately concern the public, will go the same way, although it is darkly intimated that His Honor, Mayor Kaps, may have something to say on the subject later. Perhaps, he may tell the people where they come in on it.

A CASUAL DISCOVERY

Joseph McGhee, candidate for attorney general, read the speech of Theodore Roosevelt, delivered at Saratoga, Pennsylvania, and when he was through he got out his trusty pencil and figured the following data: "I" was used 127 times, "Wilson" 54 and "Hughes" just twice. Sure Teddy dislikes Wilson, but not to be too exact he likes himself two and a half more. His opinion of Hughes is, doubtless, measured also by the number of times he refers to him. That is rather strange, too, because we know how deeply and gratefully Hughes admires him, as he told in that celebrated message he sent him, when Roosevelt made his first speech in his behalf.

Does it occur to those German-Americans who are going to vote against Wilson because he allows munitions to be sold to Germany's enemies, that the men who are making the millions out of the sale of those munitions are all for Hughes? They don't have to go any farther than Portsmouth to learn that.

The Cleveland Plain Dealer, Democratic in national politics, manifests an admirable spirit in advocating for election those candidates for county offices it esteems most fit, regardless of what ticket they are on. Speed the day when all newspapers will find it possible to manifest the same spirit of independence.

A chronic growler who knows of the New York Sun why all the bow-legged women wear short skirts? That poor fellow is afflicted with strabismus, in plain parlance he is cross-eyed.

May be the matter of the high price of shoes could be solved by the women wearing longer skirts and shorter tops. By the same process they could reach an adjustment of the equilibrium, that is the exposure would be the same.

It can be said for State Industrial Commissioner Thomas J. Duffy that he is bigger than his job. He has the courage to speak out in meeting, knowing full well that a polite but urgent request will be awaiting him after election day.

Wealth banishes peace from the heart, says John D. Rockefeller. Still judging from the way he clings to his million millions and heaps up more, there must be something in them better than peace, to John D.'s way of thinking.

MANAGING MARS

AND AN ELECTION PENDING

The report for the week on the iron and steel market was the most cheering yet given out, doubly so in view of the fact that in three weeks a national election will be held.

Outside of its general tone the market was unusually re-spring in the condition that there was an overwhelming preponderance of home business. Buying for all lines for 1917 delivery showed heavy increase, and mills found themselves quite unable to make reservations for uncalculated demands that are likely to arise in the ordinary experience. Railroads showed special activity in searching for shops where their orders for equipment could be supplied with some degree of expedition, and there was an enlarged demand for rails and cars. They find the plants are so full up that no orders for cars will be taken except for steel underframes and wood structures. A better idea of the crowded mills may be gleaned in the situation that orders have been placed on several hundred thousands of rails to be delivered in 1918, these being the earliest orders of the kind ever filed. Plate mills are unable to keep production anywhere near demand and they have refused to accept further business until the contract for the 250,000 tons to be used in the construction of the government ship-building plant is let.

Inevitably prices are advancing on the accelerated home demand, but this has no perceptible effect on the volume of inquiries and the business offering.

It hasn't been a stirring campaign, not in these parts, still it is rather pleasant to reflect that only three more weeks of it are left.

On the straw vote basis Wilson will beat Hughes about 100,000 in Ohio.

Don't be downcast by the war news you hear today, it is sure to be different tomorrow.

Our good young governor has been in our esteemed midst—and we are all going to vote just the same as if he had never came.

The Cleveland Leader, run by one of the Hannas, says it wants to hear Bryan's voice lifted but that is the exact thing it doesn't want. For if it did it could listen to his silver tones right next to Ohio. He is in Kentucky and will soon be in Indiana and northern Ohio.

We may have our wrangles and troubles about streets and good roads, but we are getting them just the same and have, of a truth, already got a good deal.

We can imagine the violence of the spasms the esteemed Blue-field Telegraph threw when it saw that on the straw vote Wilson had beaten Hughes better than two to one in its village.

Briar Beaver

"Mother Beaver! Mother Beaver! Bushy! Little Brother! Come here! I have something to tell you!" shouted Father Beaver as he ran back to his home. "I've a fine surprise! I've— And then he stopped short. For Mother Beaver had company. Some one was there talking to her. Some one who looked like a beaver person, but surely couldn't be, for not a single beaver did they know—that is, know to call on acquaintance, in this new Wigglewag country. Father Beaver was puzzled and he went very slowly toward Mother Beaver and the stranger till he should make out who it might be.

But he had not long to wonder. Mother Beaver turned around just then, spied him coming their way, and called out, "Come quickly Father Beaver and see who's come to call on us."

Father Beaver hurried up and when he got close he recognized the caller right away. It was none other than the dignified beaver who sat at the head of the beaver court the night Father Beaver and his family were made members of the Wigglewag society. "What's the matter, he's doing here? Was some trouble about?"

The visiting beaver, soon set Father Beaver's mind at rest by introducing himself and explaining his errand. "I am Briar Beaver," he said kindly, "and I've come to see how you are faring in your new home. Do you find everything to your liking? Are you all well and happy? Is there anything I can do for you?"

Now wasn't that kind and thoughtful of Briar Beaver? No wonder Father Beaver was pleased and proud! No wonder he forgot, for the minute, all about his raft and that come! But little he guessed that he was going to be surprised too!

"And it's kind of you to call," added Mother Beaver. "Won't you stay and have a cup of tea with us?"

"Is there anything I can do for you?"

"That sounds pleasant," said Briar Beaver, "only didn't I hear something about a surprise?"

"To be sure, to be sure you did," explained Father Beaver, "only I was so glad to see you that I forgot for the minute, I want you all to go riding with me down the creek."

"Riding with you!" exclaimed Mother Beaver, "why you have no boat!"

"Haven't I?" laughed Father Beaver, "better come and see." And without further talk he led the way to where a raft was tied, he didn't even look to see if the others were following him—he knew they would come! But little he guessed that he was going to be surprised too!

Why She Sang a Hymn

A colored preacher in the South tells of his visit to a certain house hold in a town in Georgia, where, quite early one morning, he was awakened by the tones of a contralto voice singing, "Abide With Me." As the preacher lay in bed he meditated upon the piety which the hostess must possess which enabled her to proceed about her task early in the morning singing such a noble hymn.

At breakfast he spoke to her about it, and told her how pleased he was. "Lawsy!" she replied, "that's do hymn I boils eggs by; three voices for soft and five for hard!"—Harp-er's Magazine.

The fussy old gentleman asked the chance traveling companion: "Have you any children, sir?"

"Yes, sir, a son."

"Ah, indeed! Does he smoke?"

"No, sir; he never so much as touched a cigar."

"So much the better, sir; the use of tobacco is a poisonous habit. Does he frequent clubs?"

"He has never put his foot in one."

"Allow me to congratulate you. Does he never come home late?"

"Never. He goes to bed directly after dinner."

"A model young man, sir, a model young man. How old is he?"

"Just six months."

He Got The Pass
A certain prominent railway director was asked by an employee whose parents lived in the country for a pass to visit his family.

"You are in the employ of the company?" inquired the director.

"Yes."

"Well, now, supposing you were working for a farmer instead of the company, would you expect your employer to take out his horses every time you took a notion to go home?"

"No," said the employee, politely: "I should not expect that. But if the farmer had his horses out and was going my way I should call him a very mean fellow if he would not let me ride!"—Exchange.

NEW-YORK-DAY-BY-DAY

O. O. MCINTYRE.

New York, Oct. 21.—In the Pic Zone and along the Cornbeef Hash Meridian the news traveled swiftly as a shadow over an artificial moon, making every one feel cold and clammy, that precisely on the hor a 20 to 25 percent increase in price, not portion—would take effect on the bill of fare of all Childs restaurants.

Pie common went up 50 percent. The reverse of stock market conditions prevailed and the result will be known in history as the Great Pie Panic of 1916. Butter-eaters remained steady at five cents.

All of which means that in the Childs restaurants a cut of pie costs 10 cents instead of five and cornbeef hash 20 cents instead of 15. Coffee with cream is now 30 cents.

Just before the new schedule went into effect a flood of buying orders poured into Childs' Broadway emporiums. Men and women ordered feverishly to lay in supplies of cornbeef hash, packed eggs and pie common sufficient to last them a whole day.

And in the Three Cent Beanie-ies there are very few dishes left at three cents. They have soared to five cents. In the famous Dirty Spoon Cafe—that is its real name—on the Bowery the two cent dishes are now four cents.

Freddy Block was remarking at the Friars that New Yorkers always answer a question by asking one. The crowd hooted. So they decided to test the idea. "Well," said Block, "the first man who comes in will be tried out and I'll bet a powder that he asks a question."

Along came Sam Harris. "Well, Sam, the Yankees won," said Block.

"Did they?" was the reply. "Then the crowd walked down to a shoe store a few doors away."

"Say," said Block, "have you got any fresh artichokes here?"

"What do you think this place is a vegetable store?" chirped the clerk.

Seven years ago Samuel Roth-apfel, the owner of the Tialto, one of the largest movie playhouses in the world, was a beer singer in a saloon in a city near Pittsburgh. But while he served beer he dreamed—and the Slave and Czevis and Magyars whom he served used to laugh and tap their heads.

And then one day Samuel borrowed $50 and married the cafe owner's daughter. Today he has most of the things he dreamed about. His father-in-law fired him, but undaunted the young man secured an old beer hall and converted it into a moving picture palace. "That was the beginning of his career."

He was responsible for the erection of the Strand—the other large movie palace in New York. And he left it to build the Rialto. Success has left him unspoiled. Also he always has a kind word for a waiter—he knows what a hard life it is.

And here is another story of success. "The score of the Casino hit 'Flora Bella' was written by Milton Schwarzwald. He is a young American boy who was connected with the Chicago office of Leo Feist. He wanted to come to New York and write music—but he didn't get much encouragement so he came anyway."

He was given a trial with the "Flora Bella" score not because it was thought he could do it, but to keep him away from the New York offices. Fourteen of the 19 songs he wrote are reigning sit-
